GOVT DROPS 7-DAY QUARANTINE FOR INTERNATIONAL VISITORS

They will no longer need to take an RT-PCR test on the eighth day of arrival as well, according to the latest guidelines

DOES AWAY WITH 'AT-RISK' DEMARCATION

Though mandatory seven-day home quarantine is no longer needed, international travellers will be asked to self-monitor their health for 14 days. The Centre has also done away with categorising certain countries as "at-risk". Travellers from countries that were deemed "at-risk" will no longer need to give RT-PCR test at the port of arrival | P3

RANDOM TESTING ON 2% OF VISITORS

- Two per cent of visitors from all countries will be tested for Covid-19 on a random basis. Those found to be symptomatic will immediately be isolated and taken to a medical facility
- Besides uploading a negative RT-PCR report, travellers from certain countries will be allowed to upload proof of vaccination

HC: Students must not insist on religious garb till case decided

Court to hear pleas on day-to-day basis from Monday; wants institutions to open soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday orally said it restrains students and all stakeholders from insisting on wearing any religious garb — be it headscarf or saffron shawl — till the matters are decided. The court indicated that it would also pass an order on reopening of educational institutions, which have been ordered closed for three days by the state government after the hijab row spread across the state.

A full bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi, Justices Krishna S Dixit and JM Khazi noted that the court wants to restore peace and tranquility in the state. At the earliest, the education institutions should reopen and start imparting education to children, it orally observed.

All the issues before the court will be considered and it will be ensured that the children's education does not suffer. The endeavour of the court is that educational institutions should reopen without any disturbance, the court observed, adjourning the hearing to Monday. It was hearing a batch of petitions filed by students from Udupi district questioning the order passed by the state government on February 5, 2022 prescribing uniforms in schools and colleges.

The court indicated that it will hear the matter on a day-to-day basis from Monday and decide it at the earliest. Till then, people should not insist on wearing any religious garbs which are not conducive, the court added.

When senior advocate Devadatt Kamat, representing the petitioner-students, opposed the orders being passed only as indications, the court said, "You will have to cooperate and have faith in the court."

Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi argued that there is a government order that allows each educational institution to decide on uniforms and it wants students to return to colleges.

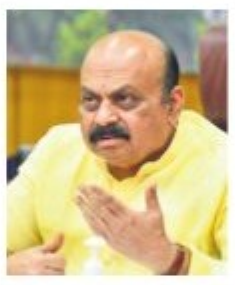
Let HC decide, says apex court

New Delhi: A fresh plea was filed in the Supreme Court on Thursday on the hijab row, raising the issue of the right to practice religion as enshrined as a fundamental right in the Constitution.

Earlier in the day, the bench headed by Chief Justice of India N V Ramana had refused to entertain a petition by a college student stating that since the case is being heard in the high court, it won't be correct if a plea is entertained here. P9

Schools to reopen on Monday, no decision on colleges yet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru



SCHOOLS will be reopened till Class 10 from Monday and the decision on resuming classes for college students will be taken later, said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai here on Thursday.

The government had declared a three-day holiday for high schools and colleges after the hijab row took a violent turn on Tuesday.

After meeting Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, Primary and Secondary Education Minister BC Nagesh, Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan and senior officers, Bommai said the Karnataka High Court order restrained students from wearing religious outfits to schools and colleges, and directed educational institutions to reopen.

The chief minister said there have been no untoward incidents over the last two days after colleges and schools were ordered shut. "Students should not pay heed to provocative statements and maintain peace," he said.

To ensure that schools and colleges are not disturbed once they reopen, Bommai is holding a meeting with deputy commissioners, zilla panchayat chief executive officers, police and education department officials via video-conferencing on Friday. P4

RBI expects inflation to dip, opts for more dovish policy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India on Thursday took a contrary bet on rising inflation, opting for a more dovish monetary policy stance than expected.

Contrary to the perception that inflation is a big risk, its policy statement pegged the 2022-23 inflation at 4.5%, 50 basis points lower than estimated. It retained the inflation estimate for 2021-22 at 5.3%.

Governor Shaktikanta Das said the lower inflation outlook was arrived at after detailed analysis of global crude prices. "Supply conditions for crude are expected to turn more favourable in 2022," he said.

Putting his money where his mouth is on inflation, he said: "It is a matter of our credibility. We won't give projections that are unrealistic."

The RBI's growth outlook for 2022-23 was, however, conservative at 7.8% against the Economic Survey's prediction of 8-8.5%. As for FY22, it retained growth at 9.2%.

The dovish policy dragged down the 10-year bond yield, as it closed at 6.72%, down almost 8 basis points from a day ago.

The central bank also kept the key policy rates unchanged. The reverse repo rate at which it drains liquidity from the system was retained at 3.35% much to the surprise of financial market stakeholders, who had pencilled in a 20-25 bps hike.

100 suspended BMTC employees reinstated

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TRANSPORT Minister B Sriramulu on Thursday said employees of Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC), who were suspended for staging protests and not reporting to duty in 2020 and 2021, will be reinstated if there are no criminal cases against them.

On Thursday, Sriramulu handed over appointment letters to 100 of them, while 700 more will be reinstated in the next one month.

At least 1,900 trainees and probationers of the state transport corporations, including 1,500 from BMTC, were suspended or dismissed for participating in the strike in December 2020 demanding that they be treated on par with state government employees. They had returned to work on government's assurance of considering their demands, but struck work again in April 2021, alleging that the state government had backtracked on its assurances.

Sriramulu told reporters that there are 1,353 applications from BMTC's suspended or dismissed staffers pending before him and so far 100 have been appointed. As and when cases are cleared by Lok Adalats, the employees would be reinstated, he added.

The employees who have criminal cases will not be taken back in any of the corporations, he clarified.

On recruiting more drivers and hiring private drivers to steer electric buses, Sriramulu said serving BMTC drivers will be assigned for electric buses too, and private drivers will not be taken in.

He said further recruitments will be made only after more buses are added to the BMTC fleet.

On buses catching fire and many in bad condition, he said that thorough checks are being conducted and that all buses, including those plying in North Karnataka, can run up to 10 lakh km without any problems. The vehicles are procured from manufacturers only on this condition, he added.

ASHA workers threaten stir if budget allocation not made for salary

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE ASHA Workers' Union has threatened to launch a statewide agitation as they did last year if an allocation of Rs 12,000 per month is not made for them in the upcoming state budget.

The state government had made several promises earlier, but none were met, said ASHA workers, who served as frontline workers during the peak of Covid pandemic. The workers complained that they have been receiving incomplete and insufficient wages and incentives.

State Secretary of the ASHA Workers' Union D Nagalakshmi said, "We get Rs 4,000 from the state and we are supposed to get money from the Central government for carrying out certain tasks. Other health staff are supposed to fill in details of the tasks we have done onto the ASHA Nidhi software. But that is not done. The Centre then disburses incomplete incentive amounts to us. For instance, instead of getting Rs 6,000, a worker may get only Rs 3,000, despite completing all the incentive-based tasks. Owing to this uncertainty, the workers no longer want an honorarium, but a fixed salary."

Though on paper they may have fixed hours of work, they toil the entire day, they said.

They demanded the promised Rs 5,000 risk allowance. They sought Rs 500 per day for working overtime, while also pushing for fixed working hours and days. P2

After 2,400 days of Mahadayi stir, no progress on project

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

AS the state government has been demanding its rightful share of water in river-linking projects, which were announced in the recent Union Budget, the ongoing agitation at Naragund for implementing the Mahadayi river diversion project clocked 2,400 days on Thursday.

A group of protesters met Home Minister Araga Jnanendra in Bengaluru and demanded that the project be implemented at the earliest. They also wanted the minister to withdraw cases filed against agitators as promised by the government.

Since there was no mention of the Mahadayi project in the Union Budget, the protesters hoped that the issue would get priority in the state budget, which will be presented by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in March. All issues around the Mahadayi project should be resolved soon and the state government must go ahead with the project, they pleaded.

Karnataka Raita Sena state president Shankar Ambali said, "We will also meet the chief minister and talk about Mahadayi and other issues related to farmers of our region."

The Mahadayi protest was launched on July 16, 2015 by a group of farmers under the Karnataka Raita Sena banner, headed by Veeresh Sobaradmath. Farmers from near and far started joining the protest, which quickly spread to all towns that come under the Malaprabha river basin, including the twin cities of Hubballi and Dharwad. The agitation got support from all sections, including the Kannada film industry. P5

Curbs relaxed, call for Karaga fest with pomp

MLC writes to govt, says cases are down

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN the wake of further relaxations of the Covid-19 restrictions following a reduction in cases, Member of Legislative Council P R Ramesh has written to the State Government requesting that holding of Karaga festival in full pomp and grandeur be allowed.

The letter was sent to the government on February 8. However, the issue is yet to be discussed by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and Bengaluru District Commissioner, who is the authority to give permission and organise the festival.

Officials from BBMP said that the matter was yet to be discussed and the Karaga committee meetings have also not yet started so far.

Ramesh told The New Indian Express that the Covid norms have been relaxed and, on February 9, the Chief Secretary had issued relaxation orders.

In the order, Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar stated, "Religious places are permitted to function as per the permissible capacity strictly adhering to social distancing norms as per the national directives for Covid-19 management and the Covid appropriate behaviour. Further, activities pertaining to places of worship are permitted, strictly adhering to Covid appropriate behaviour and the SOPs issued by the department concerned."

Over the last two years, the Karaga festival has been a silent affair, without public gatherings, in the wake of the pandemic. Karaga is held annually on April 16, but the festivities and prayers start nine days ahead, near Dharmarayaswamy temple in Chickpet constituency.

"Now as cases are coming down and the situation has got back to normal, holding the festival will be of no harm. I have spoken to the principal secretary of the revenue department and am now awaiting the final orders. So far, people were patient, but now, they too are demanding that the festival be held," Ramesh said.

'YET TO GET ₹50L RELIEF'

THEY said that they have also not received the Rs 50 lakh compensation from the Centre, promised for families of those ASHA workers who died due to COVID-19. Apart from Covid, ASHA workers conduct a number of surveys on a day-to-day basis and are part of antenatal and post-natal care of mother and children, they added.

Home buyers sceptical with RERA's Lok Adalat plan

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

THOUGH the Karnataka Real Estate Regulatory Authority (K-RERA) has announced the formation of Lok Adalats to dispose of cases, home buyers are still sceptical of the decision. Further, the Karnataka Home Buyers Forum has invited suggestions for a public interest litigation (PIL).

K-RERA, on Wednesday, announced that it will organise Lok Adalats, under the guidance of the Karnataka State Legal Services Authority (KSLSA). According to a notification released by K-RERA, the move has been done to take care of cases related to refunds, compensation, delay compensation, permissible execution proceedings in disposed-of cases and other litigation filed under the RERA Act 2016 and K-RERA Act 2017.

However, while this will prove to be a major improvement for home buyers, they are sceptical on how this will change the already filed cases. "This is a very good development and we are hoping that it will help us. However, I hope this doesn't add more red tape to the issue where we will have to file complaints again to the Lok Adalats to get some relief," said Dhananjaya Padmanabhachar, a forum member.

Further, Dhananjaya said that the forum will draft a PIL in the Karnataka High Court regarding the different issues they had faced for years and the functioning of RERA. In the PIL, the forum has so far asked for the court to direct RERA to complete investigations with transparency, implement a digital redressal system and to stop sanctioning projects to fraudulent builders among other prayers. Further, the PIL asked for FIRs to be filed against builders and investigated timely as well as the lower courts not to impose injunctions on home buyers preventing them from speaking to the media on issues they had been facing regarding fraudulent builders.

The forum has invited suggestions and prayers from home buyers who have faced issues.

"Since it is a PIL, we are happy to take up the suggestions of any and all home buyers who have run into problems with builders and who have been unable to get any kind of relief," said Dhananjaya. The suggestions can be mailed to karnatakahomebuyersforum@gmail.com. The forum has stated that the deadline to submit suggestions is February 16.

Actor lends support to ITI workers' stir

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Actor Chetan Ahimsa joins ITI workers in their protest in Bengaluru on Thursday

AMIDST their ongoing protests against the ITI Ltd, activist and actor Chetan Ahimsa met the terminated workers on Thursday and urged them to continue their fight.

Stating that their protest was just and fair and has garnered support from multiple organisations, the actor said, "Whatever difficulties we face, we cannot stop our struggles, and we can draw inspiration from the year-long farmer struggle in Delhi. The present political scenario can only be fundamentally changed by forging solidarities between the anti-caste struggles, working class struggles, feminist struggles and anti-communal struggles."

Chetan Ahimsa is one of many to extend support to the workers.

The workers had been allegedly illegally terminated in December last year, following which they have been protesting. The workers also recently took up hunger strike and rallied to the company's corporate offices to demand that they be reinstated.

The regional labour commissioner had warned the company that they had violated the workers rights by terminating them without any notice.

VARSITY NON-TEACHING STAFF SEEK OVERDUE PROMOTIONS

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

For close to two years now, non-teaching staff at Bengaluru University (BU) have not been promoted. Despite multiple appeals to the authorities concerned, BU Syndicate members have refused to approve their promotions. The reason, however, is not clear.

Krishnappa, secretary, Bengaluru University Non-Teaching Staff Association (NTSA), told TNIE that the issue of promotions was raised several times with Syndicate members, who promised to approve the agenda. However, during monthly Syndicate meetings, the agenda was never passed. "The promotions have been approved by the registrar and the vice-chancellor and most of the Syndicate members are also in favour of the move. However, Syndicate members appointed by the governor and the government are against it," Krishnappa told TNIE.

He went on to say that around 200 employees, including technical staff and attenders, had been eligible for promotions for over 15 years, though workers are eligible for promotion after five years. "We have three types of workers, permanent, daily waged and outsourced, numbering over a thousand altogether, who are all being affected by this decision," said Krishnappa. NTSA, headed by its president Shivappa P, has repeatedly asked for the promotions agenda to be taken seriously.

During a special meeting held by the Syndicate members in January, where the seven appointed members were not present, the promotion alongside other agendas were successfully approved. However, following the meeting, the appointed members protested against the decision and asked for all agendas approved during the meeting to be reversed.

Remove illegal flex banners, buntings, orders BBMP chief

BENGALURU: Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike, (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Thursday issued strict instructions to all the zonal chief engineers to remove illegal flex banners and buntings within the BBMP limits with immediate effect. On his directions, the removal of illegal flex banners and bunting immediately began from Thursday. Accordingly, the teams, led by chief engineers in all eight zones of BBMP took, up the removal of illegal flex banners and bunting. Flex banners fixed to roadside electric poles and along fencing of Rajakaluve were also removed. The drive was held at the places like Marathahalli, Whitefield, Hoodi, HBR Layout, Yelahanka, Thanisandra Main Road, Rajajinagar, HSR Layout, Begur Main Road, Anjanapura, Jnanabharathi Layout and Dasarahalli. More than 1,200 flex banners and bunting were removed in the city on Thursday. ENS

PETER VIDAL

11th February : The current alignment between magnetic Mars and magical Mercury is stirring everything up. The secret of success is to take a deep breath if angry feelings erupt, count to ten and try to be as positive as possible, focusing on solutions rather than problems. Let peace and harmony reign!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
An absence of vital planetary aspects in several sectors of your chart will give you the space to catch up with chores, responsibilities and initiatives set in train over the last few days. There may already be increasing signs of pleasant journeys in the near future.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Money still seems to be the overriding interest, although social and emotional complications are still using much of your energy. One star is making you outgoing and adventurous, another is rendering you over-sensitive and in need of peace and quiet.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
A difficult emotional situation is hopefully fading from your life, assuming you're making the most of the opportunity the Moon is offering to put the past behind you. An act of conscious will may be necessary; the more determined you are, the more likely you are to succeed.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
It isn't selfish to want more time for yourself, so don't be reluctant to preserve your own space. Others must learn that they can't take you for granted for ever. Unattached romantic Cancers could be attracted to colleagues at work; business and pleasure become intertwined.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Sometimes partners think you're a little naive but, in reality, you are far too astute to let them drive you into second place. The Sun is now a sure sign that you'll get the better of almost everyone who crosses your path over the next two weeks or so. Have faith in yourself!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your lunar patterns cajole, encourage and support you. Your major quality of the moment should be enthusiasm. You see, if you are confident, you will attract positive developments, but if you expect the worst you will miss out on a golden opportunity.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Please remember that although the general progress of events is quite smooth, your judgment is likely to be impaired for no other reason than that yesterday saw irrational planetary alignments. The unmistakeable conclusion is that you must be content with your lot.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Although the planets generally are in a rather vibrant position, Mars, your planetary ruler, is labouring through your solar chart. On one hand this suits you, for other people are more inclined to appreciate your emotional approach, but it does rather tend to emphasise any lack of practical sense.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Maintain your self-respect at all costs. The Moon, you see, is sending you various tests and challenges, the immediate result of which may be to undermine your confidence. First, you must understand that this is the case and then you should find ways to restore your position.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You'll soon be making a renewed bid for freedom, yet right now you would do better to consolidate your existing position, making sure your life is built on firm foundations. All of you should remember that, in the astrological universe, change is perpetual and nothing is permanent.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You would no doubt gain untold benefit personally, professionally and financially, from new alliances and associations. However, before you proceed, just ask yourself whether current goals are really and truly exactly what you want.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Mars has been in its present position for long enough to make you feel tougher and less ready to compromise. Yet if you really want to get your own way, friendly discussion and the gentle art of persuasion are essential. You'll get nowhere by bullying people.

No more compulsory testing at airports

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICES @ Bengaluru

IN fresh guidelines for international travellers, issued on Thursday, the Union Government has said there will no longer be compulsory Covid-19 testing at airports, and only random testing will be done on 2 percent of the passengers. However, a RT-PCR negative report within 72 hours will be necessary. Passengers who are Covid-19-negative will not be quarantined. The guidelines will be effective from February 14 and will be implemented at airports, seaports and land borders in the state.

The self-declaration form will still need to be filled on the Air Suvidha portal and a negative Covid-19 report taken before 72 hours should also be uploaded. At the time of boarding, only asymptomatic travellers will be allowed after thermal screening. The thermal screening will be repeated on arrival at the airport. "Passengers found to be symptomatic during screening shall be isolated. If positive, their contacts will be identified and managed as per protocol. The samples of travellers who test positive in random testing shall be sent for genomic sequencing," the circular said.

Travellers from countries which exempt fully vaccinated Indian citizens from quarantine will also be given relaxation of quarantine rules in India, provided they have the complete primary vaccination certificate.

K'taka's Covid-19 recovery rate inches close to 98%

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICES @ Bengaluru

HERE is some good news amid the third wave of the Covid-19 pandemic. Karnataka's recovery rate is fast closing in on its highest post the deadly second wave. While the highest recovery rate post second wave was 98.50 per cent on November 30 last year, it stood at 97.66 per cent on Thursday. The recovery rate had started dipping with the highly infectious Omicron variant of SARS-CoV-2 spreading in the state's population with a huge number of people getting infected by the virus.

The rate had dipped to 88.73 per cent on January 23 this year when the third wave was peaking.

However, January 28 saw the largest number of discharges (from home isolation and hospitals) of 71,092 with the following day recording the second highest number of discharges at 69,9902, and the preceding day recording the third highest of 67, 236.

300 site owners cheated

Complaint lodged against developer, office-bearers of housing society

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICES @ Bengaluru

A former bank manager has lodged a complaint with the JP Nagar police, alleging that the housing cooperative society of the bank, in connivance with a developer, had cheated 320 people by selling sites near Devanahalli.

A V Satyanarayana, who retired as a manager of the erstwhile State Bank of Mysore, has alleged that a few persons working in the bank introduced themselves as office-bearers of the State Bank of Mysore Officers Housing Cooperative Society Ltd in 2006. They claimed that one Kishore of JP Golden Homes Property Pvt Ltd, and others were developing a residential layout at Singarahalli village in Devanahalli taluk. The accused allegedly claimed they had taken legal opinion from the bank's legal adviser and that the latter had given approval. The Association also issued a circular stating that the rate was Rs 550 per sqft for sites at the proposed layout.

"Trusting their words, my colleagues, friends, and I purchased sites there and the same was registered through JP Golden Homes Property Pvt Ltd. But the developer did not develop the layout though several years have elapsed. As the layout is located close to the international airport, approval of the Bangalore International Airport Area Planning Authority (BIAAPA) was needed. Though the Authority had rejected the developer's proposal in 2006, it was not disclosed to the buyers and sites were sold after converting the land from agricultural to non-agricultural purpose," Satyanarayana stated in the complaint.

To the shock of the buyers, the conversion of the land was also deemed invalid by the Deputy Commissioner of Bengaluru Rural district in November last year, citing that the layout was illegal. "This has left around 320 senior citizens, most of them retired employees of the bank, in doldrums," Satyanarayana said.

Based on his complaint, the JP Nagar police have registered an FIR and have booked the developer, four office-bearers of the housing cooperative society, and others for criminal breach of trust, cheating and criminal conspiracy. Further investigations are on.

Two burglars addicted to massage parlours held, Rs 16 lakh recovered

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICES @ Bengaluru

VIJAYANAGAR police on Thursday arrested two habitual offenders who were addicted to massage parlours and committed a series of house burglaries, and recovered the booty worth Rs 16 lakh. The accused have been identified as John Melvin and Manjunath, residents of Nagarabavi.

Police said the accused were involved in 13 house burglaries in and around the city. Based on a complaint on January 7, Vijaynagar police examined the CCTV camera footage and tracked down the accused. Police claimed that during interrogation, the accused confessed that they were addicted to massage parlours and used to spend extravagantly on the woman working at the parlours, giving them hefty amounts ranging from Rs 10,000 to Rs 15,000. With their arrests, the police have solved 13 burglaries, including in Kengeri, Adugodi and Jnanabharthi police station limits, police added.

Autorickshaw driver held for killing friend

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICES @ Bengaluru

NANDINI Layout police have arrested an autorickshaw driver on thee charges of killing his friend, Vishwanath, 39, a resident of Sumanahalli, on Wednesday, over a trivial issue. The accused has been identified as Ravikumar, a resident of Laggere.

Police said that Vishwanath, who helped Ravikumar buy an autorickshaw, had come to meet him, and later, the duo had differences over a trivial reason. Meanwhile, Vishwanath tried to make advances to Ravikumar's wife, and started chatting with her.

An enraged Ravikumar had a fight with him over the issue, and in the melee, he took a knife and stabbed Vishwanath repeatedly. He then fled in his auto.

He has been taken into custody for investigation.

Pvt colleges in M'luru have no bar on hijab

Managements of institutions will not want to sacrifice commercial interests, sources point out

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

Hijab-clad girls in a classroom of a college located at Talapady on the Kerala border, which is run by a VHP leader | EXPRESS

EVEN as a debate rages over allowing students to wear the hijab in classrooms, several private and aided colleges in the communally sensitive Mangaluru, barring a few, have been allowing Muslim girls to wear the headscarf both on the campus and in classrooms.

A reality check by the TNIE revealed that many colleges, including those managed by the non-Muslims, not just allow wearing of the hijab, but also give them time to offer Friday prayers in nearby mosques by making slight changes in the timetable. Interestingly, some of these colleges are linked to Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) and Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) functionaries. Sources said these leaders have not fully allowed their Hindutva ideology to creep into the corridors of education, mostly because education means business for them, just like the others.

Some of the institutions even have different rules for different colleges, depending on 'local conditions'. A group of institutions comprising four colleges, of which a senior VHP-Bajrang Dal leader is the president, has strictly banned hijab at the PU College located in Kodialbail in Mangaluru city. But the headscarf is allowed in a degree college and at the Ayurveda Medical College, managed by the same group, and situated at Talapady on the Kerala border, which is mostly a Muslim-dominated area.

Pradeep Kumar Kalkura, treasurer of this group of institutions, admitted that they have banned hijab at their PU college, but not in Ayurveda Medical College. Asked why there are different rules for different colleges, he said, "The decision making is decentralised and respective principals take the call".

Hijab-clad girls are also welcome in colleges owned by a former BJP minister in Konchady, and another linked to a RSS leader in Shaktinagar. The websites of all these colleges even have pictures showing hijab-clad girls. Apart from this, Milagres College, Vikas PU College, St Aloysius College, Shakti PU College, St Anne's College and Sharada Ayurveda Medical College allow students wearing the headscarf. Unlike neighbouring Udupi district, the epicentre of the hijab controversy, the educational hub of Mangaluru has a significant Muslim population and the people from the Muslim-dominated Kasaragod are also dependent on Mangaluru for education. In this backdrop, sources in the field of education point out it will be extremely difficult for educational institutions to become unfriendly towards a community that has huge spending capacity.

Echoing similar views, Vidya Dinker, a rights activist, says there are two reasons for the interesting phenomenon of Mangaluru not being affected by the hijab row that has rocked Udupi. "It's already polarised and right wing elements have enough cadres in the colleges in Mangaluru. So, they are not investing their time and resources in creating this bogey here. Secondly, private educational institutions in the district are just focused on commerce and they do not want to hurt their commercial interests by bringing up such things," she felt.

UP Muslim group backs Mandya's burqa-clad girl

AYODHYA, BENGALURU (ENS and Agencies): The Muslim Rashtriya Manch (MRM) has backed the burqa-clad student of PES College, Mandya, who was heckled by a group of youths shouting 'Jai Shri Ram' slogans, saying that the 'purdah' is part of Indian culture. A video of the girl, Bibi Muskan Khan, confronting the youngsters wearing saffron scarves has gone viral on social media. 'She (Khan) is the daughter and sister of our community, we stand with her at this time of crisis," Anil Singh, Prant Sanchalak (Awadh) of the MRM told PTI. In a statement, Singh said, the country's Constitution gives the girl the right to wear a hijab. The group of boys raising 'Jai Shri Ram' slogans and heckling her is not acceptable.

Budget may have schemes for workers, labourers

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday continued attending a series of meetings with ministers and officials of various departments to discuss about the Budget for 2022-23.

The CM held meetings with concerned ministers, officials from departments including Labour, Social Welfare, Transport, Large and Medium-scale Industries, and Agriculture, among others. Speaking to The New Indian Express, Labour Minister Shivaram Hebbar said that labourers and workers can expect schemes or initiatives expected to better their livlihood, while official sources said that they have proposed to provide housing (transit) facilities for migrant workers. "We have already identified lands at 13 places in 10 districts, and a tender has been called for five places. We want to add more houses every year in a phased manner. We are hoping CM Bommai will approve it and announce more houses for the year 2022-23," an official said.

On Friday, Bommai will be meeting ministers and officials from the Department of Primary and Secondary Education, Wakf, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, Endowment, Law and Parliamentary affairs, Women and Child Developement, and others. The CM is likely to present the state budget in the first week of March and started his pre-budget meetings with the ministers and senior officers from Wednesday.

Headscarf was allowed when uniforms were first introduced: Ex-minister

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

EVEN as the hijab issue is being hotly debated, uniforms in schools were introduced in the 1980s when Ramakrishna Hegde was Chief Minister. The then Education Minister in the Hegde Cabinet, M Raghupathy on Thursday said that when the uniforms were introduced back then, the issue of the hijab was raised and the then Janata Party government had granted exemption to Muslim students to wear the headscarf.

Former Education Minister M Raghupathy

The former minister put up a post on FaceBook stating, "In 1985, as Education Minister in the cabinet of late Chief Minister Ramakrishna Hegde, I had introduced the scheme of free uniform for students in government schools, city corporation, municipal and panchayat schools. This was for the first time uniforms were introduced in Karnataka. Students, both girls and boys, would get free uniforms.

"We had clearly specified that girl students belonging to the minority community wearing the hijab or a nun's habit, and coming to government institutions, was not a problem because it would not disturb the academic environment in schools and colleges in any way.'' In his post, he appealed that, "no political party should make it an issue and disturb the atmosphere in schools and colleges.

"I appeal to the government to bring peace and harmony in educational institutions,'' he added.

'Uninterrupted practice'

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Raghupathy recalled that wearing of uniforms was introduced in PU colleges later. The hijab issue was discussed way back then and sorted out. Since hijab is mandated by religion, students could wear it without any problem and this practice has continued uninterrupted since then, he said.

Raghupathy also recalled that the decision to give free uniforms and textbooks cost the government about Rs 40 crore annually in those days.

Raghupathy recalled that he had discussions about this with the then Union Congress ministers in the government headed by then Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi, while he himself was in the Janata Party. Raghupathy also recalled that Christian nuns who wear a habit and those belonging to other religions, like Jain women, who wear a covering on the head, were also given exemption then.

Interestingly, the BJP, with 18 seats, which had extended outside support to the Janata Party government, which had 95 seats, had not objected to this, Raghupathy pointed out.

Blamed for controversy, Udupi college principal says he tried to resolve issue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

THE principal of the Government Women's PU College, Udupi, Rudre Gowda, who is under attack for allegedly mishandling the hijab row in his college, has blamed the Campus Front of India (CFI) and other organisations for 'radicalising' the girls who are now fighting for their 'right' to wear the headscarf.

The principal told TNIE that the girls were all along following the dress code prescribed by the college, which does not permit the hijab inside classrooms. "But suddenly, their behaviour changed and they appeared radicalised by some extreme-thinking organisation. We have tried our level best to contain the issue by calling their parents and discussing with them. To some extent, their parents got convinced about the dress code, but later on, CFI leaders started storming into my chamber," he said.

''Except that it did not reach the stage of a physical fight, they argued with me in a loud voice. Then, I told them to approach the DDPU as it was not possible to convince them at my level. In between, senior representatives of the Udupi Jilla Muslim Okkuta also tried convince the students to not make the hijab a big issue at the cost of their education. But those girls were not willing to hear either their parents or the community elders. They were surely radicalised. Some of the students were known for indiscipline and were irregular to classes," he alleged.

He said local MLA Raghupathi Bhat, who is also the president of the college development committee, got involved in it after the girls stood their ground and also staged a protest in front of the college displaying placards. "On January 26, he offered them the option of attending online classes, but the girls rejected it the next day and said they wanted to wear the hijab, and online classes were not their demand," Gowda added.

On Thursday, CLP leader Siddaramaiah sought the sacking of the principal, blaming him for the whole issue. But Rudre Gowda maintained that he had done his best to resolve the issue.

When TNIE contacted Udupi SP Vishnuvardhan regarding some reports which claimed that the girls were contacted by CFI and other organisations, he said the district police have no details in this regard. ''We are not investigating the case, so we have no information on that matter'' he said.

Cong allowed row to snowball: KSE

ENS @ Chitradurga

LAYING the blame for the hijab-saffron stole row snowballing into a major controversy on leaders of the Congress and the minority community, RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa said it could have been sorted out peacefully much earlier.

"It wouldn't have blown out of proportion. The issue should have been settled much earlier, when six girls belonging to the minority community had entered a college wearing hijab, leading to problems," Eshwarappa said here on Thursday.

Speaking to reporters, he said that 'responsible people' of society should have handled the sensitive issue properly and sorted it out amicably. "The students should have been sensitised about the importance of the uniform, but it was not done. The tension prevailing on campuses in the state is due to an organised conspiracy by a section of society, which has communalised the issue," he alleged.

Alleging that the issue has taken shape against the backdrop of the upcoming elections, the minister requested students to come to school wearing the recommended uniform. Substantiating his statement, he claimed that "Christian schools in the state have banned hijab" and that students should have been sensitised over wearing of uniforms.

HDK hints at contesting from Chamundeshwari

K SHIVA KUMAR & DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Mysuru, Bengaluru

FORMER Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy sprung a surprise on Thursday, by hinting that he would be contesting from the Chamundeshwari constituency for the 2023 Assembly polls, raising eyebrows in political circles.

When JDS workers insisted that he announce the name of the party candidate likely to replace disgruntled Chamundeshwari MLA GT Devegowda, Kumaraswamy cheered them up by announcing that he plans to contest from that seat himself.

This development puts in doubt the future of GT Devegowda with the party. The veteran leader had defeated former CM Siddaramaiah of the Congress from here, in the last Assembly elections.

The former CM also hinted that his wife Anita Kumaraswamy may not contest the polls, putting an end to a discussion about family politics. "Me and my wife have discussed it and will make an announcement during the elections," he said.

Meanwhile, talks are already making the rounds that their son, Nikhil Kumaraswamy, is testing political waters in Ramanagara.

Asked about Nikhil's chances of contesting the Ramanagara seat, Kumaraswamy maintained that it all depends on the aspirations of their party workers. Accordingly, a decision will be made ahead of the 2023 polls.

Meanwhile, Nikhil, who had lost the 2019 Lok Sabha polls from Mandya, has already begun organising JDS workers in Ramanagara, and as recently as on Wednesday, he held a 'Yuva Sammelana' or youth-wing meeting.

Nalapad takes charge as Youth Congress prez

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

Mohammed Haris Nalapad takes charge as the Karnataka Pradesh Youth Congress Committee president, in the presence of KPCC chief DK Shivakumar, CLP leader Siddaramaiah and other leaders, in Bengaluru on Thursday | VINOD KUMAR T

MOHAMMED Haris Nalapad, son of Shantinagar Congress MLA N A Haris, took over as president of Karnataka Pradesh Youth Congress Committee (KPYCC) at an event here on Thursday.

While 'blessing' Nalapad, KPCC president D K Shivakumar promised that a separate manifesto will be prepared to address issues affecting the unemployed youth. "We will come to power in 2023, and will burn copies of the NEP — the 'Nagpur Education Policy'," he stated.

Congratulating Nalapad and his team, Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly, Siddaramaiah, gave a clarion call to prepare for the 2023 Assembly polls, expecting the Youth Congress to play a key role. "Coming to power is not as important for us, than removing the BJP. The people of the state have been thinking on these lines," he said, advising youngsters against falling prey to the divisive politics of religion.

"Youngsters should read the Constitution of India. The hijab was a non-issue for the poor and even the minorities, as girls have been wearing it for several years. But they have made it an issue. I have never seen students wearing saffron stoles. The RSS and the Sangh Parivar have been providing them to the youths to strengthen the BJP's votebank," he alleged.

All India Youth Congress president B V Srinivas, who administered oath to Nalapad, called upon KPYCC members to work round the clock to bring the party to power in Karnataka and at the Centre, adding that the social media campaign of the party should reach all members, even at the grassroots level.

"Taking charge as office-bearers and relaxing at home will not help. You cannot become leaders by just loitering around big leaders. Work hard, rest less until the 2024 Lok Sabha polls," he said, adding, "Learn from the sacrifices of AICC president Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi, who did not take any positions of power in the interest of the party and its workers."

Addressing the gathering, Nalapad said, "I repent for the mistake that I had committed, and realised how grave it was, since I had to wait for a year for that very reason to take charge as the (KPYCC) president." He was referring to the 2018 incident involving a drunken brawl, wherein he was charged with attacking a youth in a pub.

Clarifying that he will rectify his mistakes, he said he is looking forward to organising the party under the guidance of senior leaders.

KANNADIGAS IN GOA FAVOUR BJP: SAVADI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Panaji

FORMER Deputy Chief Minister Laxman Savadi, who is campaigning for the BJP in Goa, stated on Thursday that a large number of Kannadigas who migrated to the coastal state decades ago, are expected to rally behind the saffron party in the Assembly elections on February 14. "The votes of Kannadigas in Goa are vital and that is why the BJP has formed several teams of its leaders from Karnataka to reach out to them," he said.

Speaking to TNIE, Savadi said, "The voter-count in each constituency in Goa is somewhere between 18,000 and 30,000. The party is working towards taking all voters into confidence. Party workers are campaigning across the state to apprise Goans about the work taken up by the Centre in the last seven years and the Goa government over the past 10 years."

A large number of migrants from all parts of North Karnataka have been residing in Goa for nearly 40 years. "As the Transport Minister of Karnataka two years ago, I sent thousands of buses to help migrant Goans reach their hometowns during the Covid crisis. They are aware of BJP's work towards their welfare over the years," he added.

Savadi said that party leaders from Karnataka have been able to reach out to many Kannadigas in Goa during the last few weeks. Several top national leaders of the party, headed by BJP national president J P Nadda, are on the campaign trail to ensure the party's victory. Savadi said the BJP is working towards winning 25 seats, and it would form the government.

Taking parents, teachers into confidence: CM

TRS MPs MOVE PRIVILEGE MOTION AGAINST MODI

'PM's remark on T'gana formation attempts to show House in bad light'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

BJP and TRS workers clash at Narmetta Mandal in Jangaon district on Thursday

TELANGANA Rashtra Samithi (TRS) MPs on Thursday submitted a notice for privilege against Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his remarks on the Andhra Pradesh Reorganisation Bill and walked out from the House after they were not allowed to raise the matter. The notice, signed by party MPs K Keshava Rao, J Santosh Kumar, B Lingaiah Yadav and K R Suresh Reddy, was submitted to secretary general.

"The statement attempts to show the Parliament Houses in the most bad and contemptuous manner, denigrating and demeaning the procedures and proceedings of the House and its functioning. It tantamounts to finding fault with the Members of Parliament and the presiding officers for their conduct in the House. Even the decision of the presiding officer, to close the doors of the House to prevent the spread of disorder or mischief of handful few members, is brought under question," read the notice.

The MPs further said that finding fault on either counts is a contempt of House, raising the issue of its Privilege. "In the instant case, the Prime Minister tried to find fault with such conduct of the presiding officer and damned them as unruly," the notice added.

Replying to the Motion of Thanks on the President's address, Modi on February 8 had referred to the incidents that happened in the Parliament during the passage of the Bill.

"The shameless manner in which Andhra Pradesh was bifurcated. Mikes were shut, chilies were sprayed and there was no discussion. Was this manner right? Was it democracy," he had asked.

Rao raised the matter soon after the laying of papers in the House. But Deputy Chairman Harivansh did not allow, saying Rajya Sabha Chairman Venkaiah Naidu is yet to take a call on it and TRS MPs came into the well of the House.

Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge also spoke in their favour and objected to the remarks made by Modi, saying the Andhra Pradesh Reorganisation Bill was passed by both the Houses.

Shift gauging stn to Hogenakkal: Farmers

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

EVEN as the tussle over the construction of Mekedatu balancing reservoir across the Cauvery continues, the Karnataka Save Hogenakkal forum, farmers and other activists now demand shifting of Biligundlu water gauging station to Hogenakkal along Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border.

Also insistent on a resurvey of Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border in Hogenakkal, they claim that more than 12 tmcft of water is flowing to Tamil Nadu from the streams that join the Cauvery near the famous Hogenakkal waterfalls. Accusing Tamil Nadu of encroaching 300 acres of land belonging to Karnataka in Hogenakkal for constructing a watchtower, hanging bridge and other facilities under the charade of promoting tourism, they want Karnataka to put pressure on Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) to shift the gauging station to prove that Tamil Nadu is getting more than 175 tmcft of water that was awarded by the tribunal.

Environmentalist Punajanur Doreswamy has accused TN of preparing the ground for Phase II of Cauvery drinking water project to quench the thirst of Salem, Dharmapuri and Krishnagiri at a cost of Rs 4,500 crore.

When Tamil Nadu has opposed Karnataka utilising 6.5 tmcft of water from the proposed Mekedatu reservoir to meet the water needs of Bengaluru, Ramanagara and a few other districts, questions have been raised over the former taking up the Phase II project without the approval of the CWMA. Tamil Nadu had implemented the Phase I of the project despite strong opposition from the then Karnataka CM BS Yediyurappa.

Recalling that Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Kerala governments have completed 9km of joint survey in Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border falling under Hogenakkal, Doreswamy says that the survey, which was stopped citing elections, has not resumed nor the riparian states have exhibited political will to complete it.

Farmer leader Kurubur Shanthakumar said that the Union Government, which has mentioned river-linking projects in its budget, should first give permission to construct the Mekedatu project that would cater to the needs of both Tamil Nadu and Karnataka and contain the wastage of water during incessant rains in the Cauvery catchment, basin and also the delta. He has decided to write to the Karnataka and TN chief secretaries to complete the resurvey.

Forest squad arrests two for tiger claw trade

Tiger claws turned into ornaments recovered in Mysuru | EXPRESS

FOR various beliefs associated with wearing a tiger claw pendant like luck, fortune or a manly feeling, the illegal trade of tiger claws and its jewellery continues unabated in the Mysuru region.

In a span of two weeks, the Mysuru forest mobile squad cracked two cases and arrested two persons, recovering around 10 tiger claws and concomitant jewelleries, in the district.

A forest official told The New Indian Express that based on the request from a few jewellery shop owners, smugglers would hunt or steal tiger claws, nails and other parts of the big cat when they are found dead in the forest area, and sell them to make money.

Special team

"Our preliminary investigation found that they had a link with jewellery shop owners in Rajasthan. We have formed a special team to arrest all those involved and we will book them," said a senior forest official.

Mahadayi project will quench thirst of Belagavi, Gadag dists

AS the protest turned intense, the police had resorted to lathi-charge and arrested many agitators from Naragund and Navalgund. The protest continued even during th pandemic with agitators observing the norms. Over the years, agitators have been taking turns to keep the issue alive, but there has been no progress. The Mahadayi project involves building dams across two tributaries of Mahadayi, Kalasa and Banduri, to divert 7.56 tmcft of water to Malaprabha. The project is expected to meet the drinking water needs of Dharwad, Belagavi, Bagalkot and Gadag districts.

ANTI-SMUGGLING DAY

'Smuggling takes a toll on economy, leads to job loss, poverty'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce & Industry's (FICCI) Committee Against Smuggling and Counterfeiting Activities Destroying the Economy (CASCADE) has taken a lead to mark the launch of Anti-Smuggling Day on February 11 beginning 2022.

'Anti-Smuggling Day' will represent a major step in the fight against the global menace of smuggling. With no country immune to the impact of smuggling and no single sector can be said to be an exception, this day will highlight the mounting hazard of smuggling. It will not only call for attention for creating awareness on this issue, but also evaluate what more needs to be done at a national and international level in mitigating this challenge, a statement from FICCI said.

Najib Shah, former chairman, Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs and Think Tank Member of FICCI-CASCADE, said the day will bring together policy makers and enforcement agencies, and reinforce their commitment to take action to curb the menace of smuggling that is growing each year and affecting all countries. "Smuggling directly impacts the economy of the country and leads to unemployment and thereby poverty," he said.

"Public policy and strong enforcement are needed to address counterfeiting and smuggling. The idea is to bring better coordination between our agencies so that there will be an effective exchange of intelligence to tackle smuggling," Shah said, adding that FICCI CASCADE intends to recommend the government to observe 'Anti-Smuggling Day' as an official programme.

NOT A GOOD SIGN

As per World Economic Forum, illicit trade has resulted in an annual drain of US$2.2 trillion in 2020

As per a 2019 study by FICCI-CASCADE, large scale smuggling in only 5 key industry sectors resulted in a loss of Rs 1,17,253 crore to the Indian economy

Due to smuggling in the key five industries, the total livelihood opportunity lost in the economy is about 16.36 lakh in 2017-18

INTERIM HC ORDER TO HAVE A CALMING EFFECT ON STUDENT COMMUNITY

The deepest questions of democracy can come veiled in layers of subsidiary questions—all of them urgent, but also interlinked in a way difficult to disentangle. The ongoing hijab row in Karnataka has aspects related to religion, society, politics and the law. On the last front, the Karnataka High Court has put a temporary freeze on the status quo—restraining students from wearing any religious attire to school/college—till it decides on the core issue. The obiter dicta was obviously meant to restore classes, suspended after campuses across Karnataka saw violent protests. Beginning in Udupi with a protest by six girls and the much-televised ‘attire war’ on them led by saffron-clad boys, it had an inevitable spillover to other districts, leading finally to the spectacle of a lone hijab-clad girl getting heckled in her own campus in Mandya. Media was awash with the images: readymade political capital for all sides on the eve of the biggest election of the year, in distant Uttar Pradesh.

On the core point of whether the Constitution protects the right to one’s choice of attire in classrooms, the three-member Bench seized of the matter should provide clarity. Outside of the communal overtones everyone will recognise, there’s a nuance not many outsiders may grasp: Karnataka does not follow the Plus Two system. And this relates to the interim phase called pre-university (PU)—the kids are just out of school, and not quite in college, at least in the classic undergraduate sense. Hence, the contrary views on ‘uniforms’. Also, it’s a critical time for education. Young lives have already been disrupted enough by the pandemic, and now the PU exam schedule is out.

The court’s verbal order should have a calming effect on the unfortunately polarised student community. The final verdict will surely keep in mind that no false equivalence is created to appear balanced. A girl’s right to education is paramount. That’s the best way to negotiate with orthodoxy.

OPERATION PALAKKAD & ITS LESSONS FOR KERALA

The people of Kerala heaved a collective sigh of relief when 23-year-old R Babu was rescued from the treacherous rock cleft where he was stuck for two nights since Monday after slipping while trekking on the Kurumbachi Hills in the Palakkad district. By Wednesday morning when the rescue team—mainly comprising Army personnel—finally reached him, Babu had already spent a lonely 44 hours without food or water. The rescue operation spearheaded by the Indian Army and supported by agencies such as NDRF, Coast Guard, and Kerala’s health and police departments was named ‘Operation Palakkad’. It was noted for meticulous coordination among various agencies involved and for the precise planning and execution. The Indian Army, which had been the state’s saviour during the massive floods of 2018, came to the rescue once again.

While the timely rescue was commendable and helped avoid a tragedy, the incident also exposed the chinks in Kerala’s disaster management strategy. While the accident was communicated to the police, the nearest fire and rescue station and district disaster management authorities by Monday evening, nobody had any concrete plan on how to go about the rescue. These agencies, which had received crores of rupees for modernisation in the recent past, even failed to find a way to drop a packet of food or a bottle of water to the trapped youth. The 100-member state disaster response force is stationed at Pandikkad in neighbouring Malappuram district. Had there been a well-equipped team of rescuers there, they could have launched an operation by Monday evening and rescued the youth at least 24 hours earlier. Time is of the essence in any crisis and failure to act on time negates tall claims of having a professional disaster management team. Precious hours were lost planning and attempting various rescue methods. There was a delay in seeking the Army’s help too.

Operation Palakkad should serve as a wake-up call for the state government. There must be a thorough review of the state’s disaster preparedness. More importantly, the competency and professionalism of its disaster management authority (SDMA) must be reassessed. Let the success of the rescue mission not obscure the unfortunate reality that the state’s own agencies were totally unprepared for a disaster of this kind.

Stress is like a musical string instrument. If the strings are too lax, we can’t make music. If the strings are too taut, we can’t make good music either

WHAT ROLE DOES STRESS PLAY IN OUR HEALTH?

SOUMYADIP SINHA

DR K SRINATH REDDY

Cardiologist, epidemiologist & President, Public Health Foundation of India

Stress remained unrecognised for long in medical literature as a cause of many diseases due to difficulties in quantifying its levels through specific markers. We now recognise that stress plays a major role in influencing our behaviours and biology in many ways and can lead to several health disorders. It can raise blood pressure, increase blood clotting, cause heart beat irregularity, damage heart muscle, lead to diabetes, depress immunity, cause skin and bowel disorders, accelerate ageing and impair brain function. It can precipitate heart attacks or strokes and lead to sudden death.

Yet, stress is not always pathological, to be perceived negatively. It is essentially a physiological response, meant to protect us. However, it can be counterproductive and damaging to health if excessive or prolonged. It is important to understand the pathways and provocateurs of stress if we are to influence it in a manner that enables our survival without eroding our health and well-being.

Hans Selye, who coined the term ‘stress’ in 1936, defined it as “the non-specific response of the body to any demand for change”. It is the collective term to describe the sum total of the body’s responses to a challenging situation. The challenge may be physical, mental or emotional. It can be a stimulating challenge to your creativity or a damaging reaction to a real or perceived threat.

The stress response is an evolutionary survival mechanism against possible dangers that are posed by a changing environment. When our cave-dwelling ancestors ventured out to hunt for food, they also faced the danger of being attacked by a predator. The choice was between ‘fight or flight’. Either way, the body had to be prepared.

In a stress response, the ancestor’s body revved up the sympathetic nervous system and the adrenal glands. The raised levels of adrenaline in the blood increased the heart rate and blood pressure, to supply more blood to the actively exercising muscles as the ancestor fought or fled. Steroid hormones were poured into the blood and raised blood sugar levels to supply the active muscles and the brain, which had to make quick decisions. To preferentially supply blood to the brawn and the brain, blood supply to other organs decreased, especially to the stomach and intestines. The tongue became parched. Sweating increased to dissipate heat from contracting muscles. Pupils dilated to extend the ambit of vision to spot the danger. Blood clotting mechanisms were activated, lest there was injury during the fight or a fall while fleeing.

When catapulted into modernity, these acute stress responses become counterproductive, if frequent and prolonged. When a student is criticised by the teacher in the classroom or an employee is berated in the office by the boss, usually there can be no ‘fight or flight’, only suppressed anger, hidden hurt and spillover of negative feelings into the rest of the day. That is not a physical threat but still a threat to self-esteem. It evokes a stress response without a physical release. One cannot also fly away when stuck in a terrible traffic jam. The internalisation of stress response then hurts the body.

When catapulted into modernity, acute stress responses become counterproductive, if frequent and prolonged. When a student is criticised by a teacher or an employee is berated by the boss, usually there can be no ‘fight or flight’, only anger, hurt and spillover of negative feelings into the rest of the day

To cope with stress, we must redefine our threats to raise the threshold for threat perception and also find a physical release mechanism. Sleep, meditation, music, reading, pleasant interactions with friends and family, light entertainment, books, nature walks and pets can reduce the threat perception by diverting the mind to more pleasant stimuli. Sports, brisk walking or jogging can provide physical release, to substitute for the fight or flight muscular action. Yoga combines meditation for mental tranquillity with the physical activity of asanas. Some people turn to religion, believing that there is a higher power that will protect them from danger. All of these actions tend to tune down threat perception or provide a physical release to the stress response, so that the body is protected from harm.

Chronic stress is damaging to health. It causes inflammation, which can damage many organs. Acute stress can be protective when you have to respond to an immediate danger (like a speeding car rushing at you) but can also be harmful when excessive. Anger is a dangerous source of acute stress that often does not end well. John Hunter, a famous British surgeon-anatomist of the 18th century, prophetically said “my life is forfeit to any rascal who chooses to annoy me”. He died during a stormy hospital board meeting where he lost his temper. We now know that severe acute stress can fissure plaques in coronary arteries by raising blood pressure suddenly and precipitate large clot formation on the fissured surface to block blood flow.

Stress is like a musical string instrument. If the strings are too lax, we can’t make music. If the strings are too taut, we can’t make good music either. We need the right amount of stress at the right time.

ANNAPURNA ICONS IN DROUGHT-PRONE U.P. REGION TEMPLE

SAURABH SAXENA

Founder of Puratattva, a documentation of heritage sites

The Jarai Math temple, located in Baruasagar town in the Jhansi district of Uttar Pradesh, is a Gurjara-Pratihara period temple of the 9th–10th century CE. The temple has some unique features, including the presence of many Annapurna images, and the fusion of Hindu and Jain iconographies. We will delve into them after a description of the temple architecture and icons.

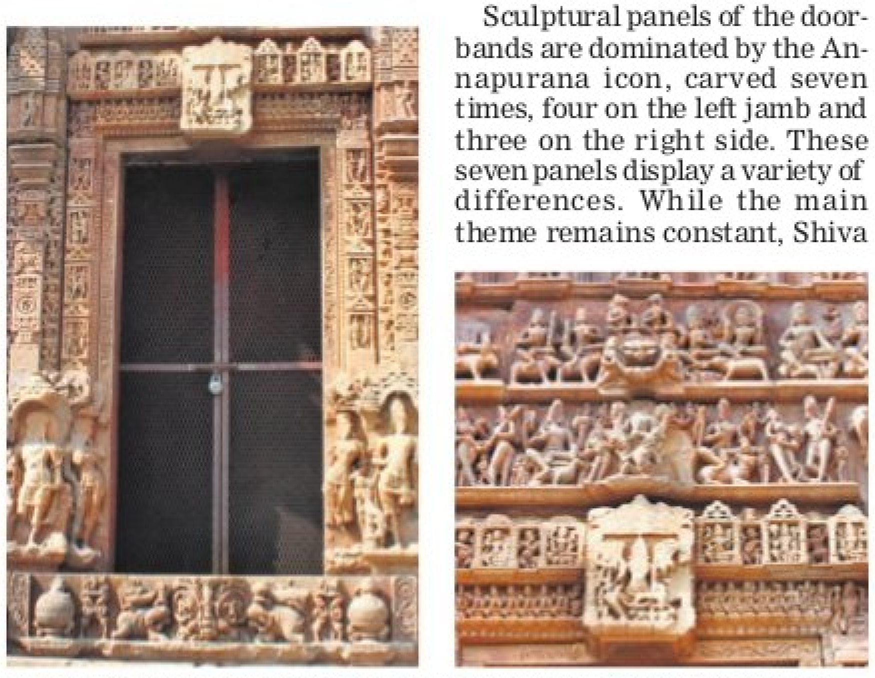
The Jarai Math follows the panchayatana (quincunx) pattern. The central temple consists of a garbhagriha (sanctum), an antarala (vestibule) and a mukha-mandapa (portico); the last has not survived. Among its four subsidiary shrines, only two have survived. The subsidiary shrines and a part of the shikhara (tower) of the central temple were rebuilt during the Bundela period (17th century CE) in the Mughal style with pyramidal roofs.

The cult image inside the garbhagriha is mutilated, however the temple was dedicated to a Goddess. This is evident from the images of various Goddesses carved all around and an image of a 16-armed Goddess on the lalata-bimba (crest-figure). It is suggested that the temple was dedicated to Goddess Jara, thus the name Jarai Math. Jara is mentioned in the Mahabharata in connection with the birth of Jarasandha. It is told that she was a demon and a grihadevi worshipped by the households by painting her images over the walls. People who did not worship her were to face destruction and other hardships in their life. It is generally believed that the demon Jara got deified and attained the status of a Goddess in due time. Reminiscences of the same may be observed in the Jara-Jivantika cult prevalent in Maharashtra.

The grandiose sapta-shakha (seven bands) doorway of the garbhagriha is exquisitely carved with various figures and icons across its seven tiers of lintels. The uppermost tier has dancers placed within narrow niches. The tier below has Ashtadikpalas (eight directional guardians), four on either side, and a lotus pedestal in the centre. Two figures of Varahi, each holding a child and seated opposite to one another, are placed over the lotus pedestal. The tier below has Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva, and two interesting Annapurna icons at the terminals. On the left terminal are shown two females standing facing each other. The woman on the left is holding a spoon in a posture of giving alms while the one on the right is holding a bowl to receive alms. Generally, in the iconography of Annapurna, it is Shiva who is shown receiving alms from Parvati. The female figure receiving alms in this sculpture may be a shakti of Shiva, probably Bhairavi. Bhairava is closely associated with Shiva-Bhikshatana iconography, which Annapurna is also a part of. The sculpture on the right terminal has Parvati and Shiva in their usual positions and posture. It has an interesting feature: A bird is sitting over the spoon held by Parvati, and another bird is in the bowl held by Shiva. It suggests that the bird is part of alms in this case.

The fourth tier from the top has six Goddesses: Lakshmi, Ambika, a mutilated figure of a four-armed Goddess, Saraswati, Chakreshvari and another disfigured four-armed Devi. Ambika is holding a child and sitting under a mango tree. Chakreshvari is seated over a lotus pedestal holding four chakras (discus). Ambika and Chakreshvari are Jain Goddesses, and their presence suggests an amalgamation of Jain and Hindu iconographies. The reason behind this may be that the sponsors of the temple were of divergent faiths and included their respective icons in the overall scheme of this doorway. The tier below has Navagrahas (nine planets) on the left and Saptamatrikas with Vinadhara-Virabhadra and Ganesh on the right. In the centre lalata-bimba is a mutilated figure of a 16-armed Goddess.

Sculptural panels of the doorbands are dominated by the Annapurana icon, carved seven times, four on the left jamb and three on the right side. These seven panels display a variety of differences. While the main theme remains constant, Shiva receiving alms from Parvati, in some panels he is shown without clothes and in some with clothes of varying degrees. In a few panels, Shiva is accompanied by a dog, suggesting his Bhairava aspect.



1) Annapurna icons on the door jambs of the Jarai Math temple in Baruasagar town in Uttar Pradesh’s Bundelkhand region; 2) images of the Goddess at the terminals

The presence of the multiple Annapurna icons over the temple gives food for more thought. The legend goes that once Parvati got angry over Shiva leaving the whole world devoid of food and grains. However, Parvati was not able to bear the grief watching her subjects crying and begging for food. She became Annapurna and opened a kitchen in Varanasi to distribute food. The world was restored to its previous state once Shiva came to that kitchen begging for food and received alms from Parvati.

Baruasagar is a part of the Bundelkhand region and droughts, reduced/delayed rainfalls and famines are not new to this area. As per a report, Bundelkhand experienced a major drought every 16 years during the 18th and 19th centuries CE. The situation may not have been very different during the 9th–10th century CE when this temple was constructed. The temples were the social institutions of that period and the sculptures over them were a device to propagate a desired message to the masses. These multiple Annapurna sculptures were part of that device to propagate the message of food distribution during troubled times.

Debate not anti-national

This is with reference to To strengthen federalism, revisit the Constitution (Feb 10). It was an excellent write-up. It has become a trend recently to call political opponents, including even chief ministers of states, anti-national. All political leaders should show restraint and there should be discussions on various aspects of the Constitution.

N A Joseph, Ettumanoor

Nothing seditious about it

In a recent press conference, KCR set the tone for changes in the Constitution and it looks like the national debate has begun on this issue. The BJP in Telangana has decided to oppose it and wants to tap legal doors to stem the tide. In fact, the legal fraternity should also explore whether the time has come for this attempt and step forward with its own contributions in strengthening the exercise. There is nothing wrong with discussion. Let the younger generations participate and debate even animatedly, if need be, and decide how they want their future to be. We have already made changes over a hundred times. Under the guise of sedition, it is not correct to trash the suggestion without even examining it. In a democracy, such discussions cannot be dubbed as seditious. We can on any day abandon the project if things are going against national interest.

D Nagarjuna, Hyderabad

A royal mess

Eminent economists were not listened to by the prime minister and he made a royal mess of our economy. Similarly, he doesn’t seem to be listening to competent constitutional lawyers too. I shudder to think what would happen to India that was united by the tireless efforts of Sardar Patel and by the unparalleled drafting of our Constitution by Dr Ambedkar.

Students shouldn’t suffer

The NEET Bill conundrum shouldn’t affect the future of aspiring medical students from Tamil Nadu. As pointed out in the editorial TN’s anti-NEET Bill back in Guv’s court (Feb 10), the state has every right to amend laws in subjects that fall under the Concurrent List as laid out in the Constitution. The ultimate sufferers are the socially and economically downtrodden rural students. All that is needed now is a decision to make the path clear for them to get hassle-free medical education. The students shouldn’t become scapegoats amidst political skirmishes.

Politics over rescue

This is with reference to Youth back on top after 45-hr ordeal (Feb 10). While the daring rescue mission of the Army came in for a lot of praise from all quarters, the remark of the leader of the opposition casting doubts over the efficiency of the state disaster management authority was in bad taste. Would it have been any better had the UDF been in power? When the task is beyond the capability of state authorities, it’s imperative that the Army is brought in. Playing politics over such matters is totally unwarranted.

Sanyukt Samaj Morcha candidate Amandeep Kaur campaigns in Fatehgarh Sahib

> What was the hurry to form a party? It has no strategy, no manifesto. Had they formed the party now and worked among the people, then they would have been ready for the 2027 polls — Harshdeep Singh, farmer

A petite middle aged woman in an off white salwar kameez with saffron and green stoles draped on her neck addresses a gathering of about 100 at Sidhupur village, Fatehgarh Sahib, the men and women segregated by a kerbstone lane opposite a white-domed gurdwara.

"Farmer incomes are not increasing, our youth don't have jobs while corruption is rampant. Politicians own big vehicles, have massive homes while the poor are crushed," bellows Amandeep Kaur, 43, displaying none of the flatulence or pious claptrap of a seasoned politician.

Kaur is a political newbie, a candidate of the Sanyukt Samaj Morcha, the freshly-minted political party of 22 farm unions that had agitated for over a year against the now consigned-to-the-dustbin farm laws.

A qualified doctor, she was attached with the Punjab Police as a medical officer before trading the khaki for the khadi. She claimed to have spent months at Delhi's Tikri border during the agitation, treating farmers and sundries for free.

"The youth are taking loan and migrating abroad for a living. This must stop as Punjabiyat is in danger," she said after her short, inanity-free monologue.

Kaur, Paramdeep Baidwan and Ravneet Singh Brar are among the young, idealistic poster boys of the SSM, testing the murky and manipulative waters of politics. "We are in it to change the mode of governance," said Baidwan, a budding peasant leader attempting a transformational leap.

"We are strong in 20-22 seats," claimed Manjit Singh, a retired Panjab University professor and the SSM's left-leaning intellectual lodestar. The new party is contesting in 104 of the total 117 assembly seats.

But the SSM's optimism does not seem to be shared by the public and farmers who have not entered the political arena. "We will oppose them, if they come here to seek our votes we will not give them water even," said Darshan Singh, 71, a farmer in Sheikpura village, Bathinda, spent months at the Tikri border. His organisation, the Bharatiya Kisan Union Ekta-Sidhupur, is not only not contesting the elections but is still in agitation mode, having taken over a toll plaza on a state highway in order to allow vehicles to pass without any charge.

"The land for this toll gate was given by me, but look at the condition of the road? Didn't you come across a broken stretch on the way here," he asked as the early morning sun broke through the fog, drenching the lustrous wheat and mustard fields.

A truck driver stops briefly to hand over ₹50 in solidarity with the agitators and he is given a cup of tea in return. "See we have support among the people, we did not ask the trucker to give us money, he himself donated this," Darshan said, pointing to the currency note, before another uncontrolled bristle at the SSM.

"Leading an agitation is one thing, politics is another. The SSM shouldn't have contested as they don't have any support," said Surinder Sharma, 37, while serving king-sized stuffed paranthas with a dollop of butter and curd for breakfast at his dhaba in Gharachon, Sangrur.

The sentiment is echoed by farmers at a tractor fair in Talwandi Sabo, the seat of one of the five takhts, or temporal authority, of Sikhism. "The SSM is the Bharatiya Janata Party's B team," said Rupinder Singh, 32, who had come from Sardargarh village in Bathinda to sell his tractor. "What was the hurry to form a political party? It has no strategy, no manifesto. Had they formed the party now and worked among the people then they would have been ready for the 2027 polls," said Harshdeep Singh, 30, another farmer at the fair.

The SSM is still an amorphous entity, without a structure or cadre, having got recognition as a political party by the Election Commission only last week.

Balbir Singh Rajewal is the putative leader but on the ground its candidates are fighting their own battles. Besides, it's newly-allotted symbol is as yet unknown among most.

There are an estimated 50 lakh farmers in the state, there is no official figure, out of a total population of a little over 200 lakh. Of these about 85-90% are Jat Sikhs, who constituted the bulk of the anti-farm law agitators.

The Jat Sikhs, about 26% of the population, has dominated the political landscape, with every chief minister barring incumbent Charanjit Singh Channi, belonging to this community. They also corner most of the representation in the cabinet. So the attritional farm agitation was essentially a battle between the governing class of Punjab and ruling class of Delhi, with the Delhi durbar having to retreat in humiliation.

The SSM perhaps wants to ride the crest of an internationally headline-making successful agitation. The farmers have sowed the political seed, but the big question is whether they will reap a rich harvest.

This stadium in Suar-Tanda is at the centre of a political battle | EXPRESS

Sympathy in favour of Abdullah in battle of legacies against Haider

SANA SHAKIL @ Suar/Rampur (UP)

TNIE @ GROUND ZERO

A stadium spread over 15 acres is a source of pride for the people of Suar-Tanda. The stadium, which doubles up as a women's healthcare centre, rests not just at the centre of the tiny constituency of 3.5 lakh people (65% Muslims). It is also the centre of poll campaigns of the heirs of two veteran political rivals — Rampur's Nawab Kazim Ali Khan and its 'other Nawab' SP leader Azam Khan.

While Kazim Ali and Azam are fighting each other in neighbouring Rampur, their sons — Haider Ali and Abdullah Azam Khan — are fighting it out in Suar-Tanda. The constituency votes on February 14.

Those in favour of Abdullah Azam, who made his political debut from this seat in 2017 and is again fighting on an SP ticket, say it was during SP's tenure that Suar underwent a huge infrastructural transformation. Government schools were set up, a hospital was started, new drains were dug, other than the stadium.

Supporters of Haider Ali, NDA's only Muslim candidate fielded by Apna Dal (S), say it was the Yogi government that constructed the stadium and started construction of the Lalpura bridge which connects this constituency with the city of Rampur.

Satish Chand, 35, is a stationery shop owner in Badli village. "The BJP government has done a lot of development work in the state and if we bring them in power in this constituency, it will be good. The stadium has been built by the Yogi government".

Mohammad Salman (name changed), who identifies himself as a transgender, is all praise for the Azam-Abdullah duo and points towards Nainital Road to assert that Suar is ahead of other constituencies in the neighbourhood in terms of infrastructure due to the work done by Azam Khan. "No work has been done in the last five years because Khan and Abdullah were in jail under false charges," says Salman.

Supporters of Azam Khan and his son Abdullah swear allegiance to them for their help during the Covid crisis. Fahim Ahmad, a tent decorator, says, "Police did a lot of gundagardi during the lockdown. We were beaten up for no reason when we stepped out even to go to hospital. Azam Khan would listen to us when he was in power. He ruled our hearts. BJP doesn't care about us."

A senior UP government official, who is a local voter, said that while budget allocation for the stadium was done in 2017 during SP's tenure, the amount was released in May 2018, when Yogi Adityanath was in power. He added that work on the bridge started in 2016 when SP was in power and stopped temporarily after the BJP government took over.

The 12km bridge is a lifeline for people of this constituency. Riyaz Ahmad, who runs a tool shop, said livelihoods were affected because of disruptions in the construction of the bridge. "Many from Rampur work with people in Suar for businesses like clothes, electronics. People from different parts of UP used to come here, but now those businesses have shut and consumers have opted for other cities."

Om Prakash, caretaker of the stadium, feels BJP has not discriminated against Suar. He says everyone who needed was given free ration during the Covid crisis.

Azam Khan, the MP from Rampur, has been in jail for two years. Abdullah is out on bail. Political observers say sympathy among locals towards Azam Khan gives an edge to Abdullah.

ASSEMBLY ELECTION 2022 DECIDE

Manipur polls to take place on Feb 28, Mar 5

NEW DELHI: The Election Commission rescheduled the dates of Manipur polls, with the first phase to now take place on February 28 and the second on March 5. Earlier, the polls were to be held on February 27 and March 3. Decision is based on inputs, representations, past precedent, logistics, ground situations and "all facts and circumstances", the EC said.

Manipur party alleges threat to candidates by militants

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Guwahati

THE National People's Party (NPP) has petitioned the Election Commission seeking adequate security cover for its Manipur poll candidates, alleging that they were being intimidated by some militant outfits.

The party alleged militant outfits such as two factions of Kuki National Front, United Kuki Liberation Front (UKLF), Kuki National Army (KNA) and Hmar People's Convention-Democracy (HPC-D) had come out openly to support the candidates of ruling BJP and its alliance partner Naga People's Front.

These outfits has signed separate 'suspension of operation' agreements with the government.

In Tipaimukh seat, the NPP alleged the HPC-D militants were moving around with arms, intimidating voters and village chiefs to vote for the BJP candidate.

It said one of its candidates had failed to file his nomination after being threatened by militants that if he ventured out, he would be shot dead. "Out of fear, he stopped going out and failed to file his nomination," an NPP leader said.

Stating that the EC has been apprised of all the incidents, the party alleged attempts to jeopardise the conduct of free and fair election. The NPP is contesting in 41 of the state's 60 seats.

PM reaches out to Muslim women over triple talaq

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

COMMENCING his UP poll campaign in Saharanpur by addressing the first physical rally on Thursday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi called upon the voters to support "riot-free and peaceful" state.

The PM addressed the rally while the first phase of voting was going on in 58 seats across 11 western UP districts including those adjoining Saharanpur like Shamli and Muzaffarnagar. In all, the fate of 623 candidates was at stake in the first phase of voting on Thursday. However, Saharanpur will go to polls in the second phase on February 14 when voting would be held in 55 seats across nine districts of western UP.

The PM stressed that the BJP government was essential for Uttar Pradesh to maintain a secured atmosphere for the women to grow without fear. Claiming that BJP wanted the women to contribute to nation-building, he said that all the sectors were being opened for them. He also raised the issue of triple talaq in Saharanpur where Muslims make around 42 per cent of the population.

Amid the raging row over hijab in BJP ruled Karnataka, the PM pitched in favour of Muslim women saying the BJP government "freed them from the clutches of atrocities" in the name of triple talaq.

Congress insulted former CDS Rawat: Modi

Srinagar: PM Modi on Thursday accused the Congress of insulting late Chief Defence of Staff General Bipin Rawat while he was alive and later using his cutouts to get votes. "I could not believe that someone can stoop so low for votes," he said while addressing a virtual rally.

UNEXCITED & CONFUSED, GOANS FACE YET ANOTHER POLL

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Panaji

TNIE @ GROUND ZERO

GOANS are concerned over high unemployment rate, plight of farmers, degradation of environment and decline in tourism business, which is the backbone of this coastal state. Amid all these worries, the voters don't seem to be excited about the Assembly polls.

Twenty-one-year-old Darren Khadekar, a resident of Sana Cruz, has been waiting for a decent job after completing Masters. "I applied at several places but received no reply. I am getting gig jobs from companies like Amazon, Swiggy and Zomato. The problem with these jobs is that they don't pay much and also requires you to have a motorcycle. I lost my father and we are three siblings. My mother is struggling to run the house."

The youth said the Revolutionary Goan Party (RGP) is "fighting for the sons of the soil". The RGP is attracting a lot of youth. It is like Shiv Sena. I have a lot of hope for this party (RGP)," he added.

The private think-tank Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE) recently released a report, according to which the 22.1% unemployment rate in Goa is the second-highest after Haryana (28.1%).

Darren's mother, Anna Gracious, who calls herself a social activist, is not only worried about her three children's future but also about degradation of Goa's environment.

"Goa is such a beautiful state, but see what the incumbent BJP government has done. It's converting the tree-dense land into a concrete jungle. I am not sure where this will lead us to," Gracious said.

She also pointed out the decline in tourist footfalls. "Due to rising rape and assault cases, foreign tourists are not much flocking here. We are confused about whom to vote. Even if we vote for a secular party, at the end, the BJP is going to grab power," she rued.

Teodoro Gonslavas, a farmer near Panaji, said the government has good schemes but the problem lies in their implementation. Pointing out at the scheme that provides tractor for tilling to farmers, he said the government tractors never come on time. "If we decide to hire from private parties, they charge almost triple."

Arvind Bhatkar, a resident of Calangute, wondered who is going to solve the issues. "Whenever election approaches, people start raising various problems. Once the election is over, people stop talking about them. BJP government was doing a good job but at local level, we support the Congress candidate because he is a good man. Bhatkar said government should ensure their schemes reached people.

'Provide 3-point seat belts for front-facing passengers'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a bid to step up the security of car passengers, the central government has made it mandatory for automakers to provide three-point seat belts for all front-facing passengers in a car. The norm will also include seat belts for the middle seat in the rear row of a car.

Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari on Thursday said he had signed a file yesterday to make it mandatory for automakers to provide three-point seat belts for all the front facing passengers in a car. "At present, only the front seats and two rear seats in most cars produced in the country have three-point seat belts," he said.

However, the centre or middle rear seat in these cars comes equipped with only a two-point or lap seat belt, similar to the ones provided in aircraft seats. Gadkari has been actively talking of reducing accidents and saving lives as his focus area.

Foreign NGO's report on press freedom not transparent: Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE central government is not in agreement with the conclusions drawn by Reporters Without Borders about press freedom in India, Minister of State for Home Affairs Nityanand Rai informed Lok Sabha on Tuesday.

Citing various reasons for not agreeing with India's ranking in the World Press Freedom Index released by the Reporters Without Borders, the minister claimed the methodology adopted is "questionable and non-transparent and lack of clear definition of press freedom".

In a written reply to a question on India placed at 142 position out of 180 countries in the World Press Freedom Index, compiled by the Reporters Without Borders last year, Rai said, "The World Press Freedom Index is published by a foreign NGO 'Reporters Without Borders'. The government does not subscribe to its views and country rankings and doesn't agree to the conclusions drawn by this organisation for various reasons including very low sample size, little or no weightage to fundamentals of democracy, adoption of a methodology which is questionable and non-transparent, lack of clear definition of press freedom."

The question was raised by Congress MP Manish Tewari.

On queries regarding journalists being booked under IPC, UAPA and other laws, the ministry stated that the government is committed to ensure the right to freedom of speech and expression enshrined under the Constitution.

Let HC examine hijab plea: SC tells student's counsel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE hijab controversy in Karnataka, which has sparked protests across the country, reached the Supreme Court on Thursday. Senior Advocate Kapil Sibal urged before the Chief Justice of India N V Ramana that the plea in this regard should be heard by the court. "This deals with what's happening in Karnataka. It's spreading all over the county. In the meantime, exams are two months away," Sibal said.

However, CJI Ramana said, "Wait, Mr Sibal. Let the High Court decide. You want the matter to be transferred?" When Sibal suggested that the matter be listed and no orders be passed on it for now, the court said, "The problem is now if we list the matter, the high court will never hear it. Wait for one or two days." The plea was filed by a student of Government PU College, Kundapura, in Karnataka's Udupi district.

Federalism under attack from Centre: Oppn

Cites interference of Governors in non-BJP states, change in IAS rules to highlight alleged unconstitutional use of power

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

RS deputy chairman Harivansh Singh tries to calm down MPs on Thursday | PTI

EXPRESSING concern over the attack on federalism, the Opposition parties on Thursday wrote to the Prime Minister that the Centre should refrain from 'grossly unconstitutional' actions against democracy and federal governance as these could lead to undesirable crises.

A joint memorandum signed by leaders from 10 parties — Congress, TMC, DMK, RJD, Shiv Sena, Samajwadi Party, AAP, CPI, TRS and IUML — as well as by 38 retired bureaucrats demanded that the 'alarming' and 'relentless' depredations of the Union on areas in the domain of States be stopped immediately. ''Matters that definitely require federal consultations must be discussed with the States, instead of issuing unilateral orders,'' it said.

Citing instances like the change in the All India Service Cadre rules, the leaders said the Centre's constant encroachments must halt as these amendments were designed to subjugate the States.

Cautioning against any unilateral move, the opposition said the States will not agree to this 'unconstitutional usurpation of powers', even if it is pushed through, despite valid opposition from the chief ministers.

Another flashpoint was the 'relentless interference' by Governors in governance in the opposition-ruled States. ''Constant needling is a gross misuse of their limited constitutional powers under Art 167, without taking into cognisance other limiting Articles like 163 and 169. The unbecoming conduct of the Governors of Bengal, Kerala, Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu constitute a direct attack on the federal structure of our Constitution," it said.

On the controversy over the Tamil Nadu Governor returning the NEET exemption bill, the leaders said: "Governors constantly hold back their assent to Bills that have been duly approved by the Assemblies or withhold critical appointments and some resort to other deliberate acts to undercut State governments."

"Democracy and federalism are the essential features of our Constitution and are part of its basic structure," they said, citing a Supreme Court order in the SR Bommai case in 1994.

Fiscal stimulus of ₹27 lakh crore: Govt

Given the massive losses due to the pandemic, the Centre informed the House that it is providing fiscal stimulus of more than ₹27 lakh crore as part of the Aatmanirbhar Bharat financial package comprising various long-term schemes, programmes, policies for making the country self-reliant and to create employment opportunities in the country.

23L jobs lost in 3 months of first Covid lockdown

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NEARLY 23 lakh persons (16 lakh men, 7 lakh women) lost jobs in the top nine sectors during the first three months of Covid-19 lockdown in 2020.

Data from the Ministry of Labour and Employment provided in Parliament on Thursday showed that the number of male employees before the lockdown (March 25, 2020) in nine sectors was 2.17 crore, which came down to 2.01 crore on July 1. The number of women employees reduced by nearly 7 lakh, from 90 lakh to 83.3 lakh during the same period.

The ministry said this data pertains to nine sectors including manufacturing, construction, health, education, trade, transport and others. The manufacturing sector has the maximum number of employees. Nearly 1.25 crore persons were associated with this sector before the lockdown.

The Labour Bureau has been entrusted with the task of conducting a Quarterly Employment Survey as a part of the All India Quarterly Establishment Based Employment Survey (AQEES). The Quarterly Employment Survey conducted during the first quarter (April-May, 2021) was designed to collect information on the impact of the pandemic on the operational and employment status of the establishments in the nine sectors, said the ministry.

The government has been cornered by the Opposition on the issues of unemployment in the last few weeks. Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Monday hit out at the government on this and cited a survey in support of his argument.

The government is providing fiscal stimulus of more than ₹27 lakh crore as part of the Aatmanirbhar Bharat financial package comprising various long-term schemes/programmes/policies for making the country self reliant and to create employment opportunities.

No let-up in virus grip on Kerala & Mizoram

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

ALTHOUGH Covid-19 numbers are declining in most places in India, states like Kerala and Mizoram are areas of concern as they continue to report high positivity rates, health ministry officials said on Thursday.

Lav Agarwal, joint secretary in the health ministry, said that in the past four days, less than 1 lakh cases have been reported, which is "very positive news".

However, cautioning not to lower guard, Covid-19 Task Force head Dr V K Paul said nearly 40 districts are still reporting an increase in weekly cases and positivity rate, while 200 districts are recording positivity of 10%. He said Kerala is reporting an "enormously high" daily positivity rate of 29.57%. Positivity rates in Mizoram (26.5%), Sikkim (17%), Arunachal Pradesh (12%), and Himachal Pradesh (12%) are also points of concern.

India's first homemade mRNA (messenger RNA) Covid vaccine is under the final stage of clinical trials, Paul said. "India's first homegrown messenger RNA Covid vaccine being developed by Pune-based Gennova Biopharmaceuticals is currently under final clinical trials, and we hope we will be able to use it someday."

This vaccine, which is also developed for the Omicron variant, will soon be tested on humans.

Pro-Kishor remark turns hot for MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

THE Trinamool Congress 'warned' its veteran MP Saugata Roy for speaking in support of election strategist Prashant Kishor after an infighting over the list of candidates for the upcoming civic polls.

Sudip Bandopadhyay, leader of the TMC legislative party in the Lok Sabha, told Roy not to give any statement on the issue of Kishor's political consultancy firm I-PAC, party insiders said.

Roy had stated that I-PAC was doing well and its style of working was not seen in Bengal politics in the recent times. He also said the TMC's decision to keep distance from I-PAC would prove difficult for the party.

''The CM is not happy with I-PAC's role in the upcoming municipal elections. Roy made the statement at a time when we are maintaining distance with Kishor's team. It caused embarrassment. This is why Bandopadhyay asked the veteran to avoid remarks on I-PAC,'' said a TMC leader.

Sources in the party said the TMC has initiated discussions to terminate contract with Kishor, who was hired following the party's poor show in the 2019 general elections. The ties is said to have turned sour after a list of candidates was uploaded in the TMC's social media platform allegedly by I-PAC without Mamata Banerjee's approval. The party had to issue a fresh list, saying it was the valid one.

''The I-PAC list resulted in massive uproar within the party over the issue of candidatures. Many, who found their name in the list of I-PAC but missing from the final list, turned dissidents and decided to contest as Independents. It is an embarrassment,'' said another TMC leader.

LAKHIMPUR CASE

Bail to Mishra, no firearm injury: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Lucknow

THE Allahabad High Court granted bail to Union minister Ajay Mishra's son Ashish Mishra in the Lakhimpur Kheri violence case, on Thursday.

The HC's Lucknow bench had reserved its order on January 18 on Mishra's plea after concluding the hearing through video-conferencing.

Mishra is accused of mowing down four farmers under his SUV following which farmers lynched three persons including two BJP workers and a driver of Teni.

While granting the bail with some conditions, Justice Rajeev Singh there might be a possibility that the SUV driver tried to speed up to save himself on account of which the incident took place.

In its order, the court observed that primarily only two allegations were levelled against the accused — of causing firearm injury to the deceased and of provoking his driver to crush the protesters.

In connection with the first charge, the court observed that no firearm injury was found on the body of the deceased or any other person except the injury caused by hitting by a vehicle as per the autopsy report.

As for the second charge, the court observed that in the wake of thousands gathered at the place of incident, the driver might have tried to speed up for saving himself on account of which the incident took place.

The judge said that after considering the overall facts, the killing of three persons sitting in the SUV by the protestors could not be overlooked. In its order, the HC said the photographs available clearly gave an idea of the brutality with which the trio was killed.

The high court also issued directives to the protest organisers to help in identifying the protestors accused of killing the persons sitting in the SUV and provide their details.

It also reprimanded the Lakhimpur Kheri administration for letting some persons for their political benefit call people to assemble without due permission under the law.

Lalu's successor to be elected on Oct 11 in Delhi

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

THE Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) will elect a new president at its national convention of the working committee in New Delhi on October 11, said Abdul Bari Siddiqui, a senior leader of the party.

After a meeting of the national working committee, Siddiqui said the president will be elected at an open session.

With this announcement, speculations about party supremo Lalu Prasad Yadav's younger son Tejashwi taking over as president have been put to rest. Lalu will continue to be the national president till then.

Siddiqui revealed the new working committee and the state chiefs would be announced after the election of the national president.

Former chief minister Rabri Devi skipped the meeting. What surprised the participants at Thursday's meeting was that Lalu's elder son Tej Pratap left the venue when his younger brother Tejashwi was addressing the functionaries. Relationship between the brothers has turned sour of late.

Tej Pratap was the first to contradict rumours that Tejashwi had been elected national president.

Earlier, Lalu took a swipe at Prime Minister Narendra Modi, saying that he had not seen such a Prime Minister. The former Bihar chief minister claimed BJP would be routed in the Assembly polls in Uttar Pradesh.

"The UP election is significant. It will play a decisive role in national politics," Lalu added.

AMITY

Spreading Bhagavad Gita's Khusbu to the world

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Ahmedabad

Khusbu says she learned from the Gita that humanity is the biggest religion

AMID the Hijab controversy gripping the country, comes the story of a 14-year-old Muslim girl from Gujarat's Umargam town in Valsad district. Khushbu Khan has won the first prize in the all-India Bhagavad Gita competition.

The Class-VII student of a government school won the 'Bhagavad Gita National Quiz' contest for explaining the teachings of the scripture in the best possible manner in the event organised by Edutor App last week.

The Edutor app, supported by the Gujarat government, listed quizzes for which Khushbu gave correct answers. She had earlier won the first prize in the Swami Vivekananda Quiz contest by giving correct answers to more than 1,600 quizzes. The contest took place on January 12.

Khusbu Khan's father Abdul Khan is a factory worker. "My family and teachers guided me on the Bhagavad Gita and encouraged me to take part in the competition. They told me to know more about the epics belonging to religions other than Islam so that I develop an understanding of the faith."

Khusbu said she learned from the Gita that humanity is the biggest religion. "I have been able to gather a lot of information about life from it. The most significant part that it has taught me is that though there are many religions, humanity is above all."

Abdul Khan, her father, said the family encouraged Khushbu to recite the Gita to make her understand the importance of the Mahabharata in the Hindu religion.

Khushbu's school principal Malti Madhukar Ahire said at a time when communal disharmony was spreading across the country, girls like Khushbu stood as a beacon of hope. "Khushbu is a brilliant child. She scored full marks despite the fact that she comes from a different religion."

BJP 'double-engine' delivery zero, Congress will sweep Goa, says Pilot

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Panaji

WHILE alleging that there has been zero delivery from BJP's 'double-engine' rule, Congress leader and former deputy CM of Rajasthan Sachin Pilot asserted that his party is going to form the government in Goa with full majority.

Addressing a press conference in Panaji, along with Goa election in-charge of the Congress, Dinesh Gundurao on Wednesday, he said, "Many political parties are contesting this Assembly election. However, their motive of dividing votes of the Congress will not bear fruit. We are heading towards a clear majority in Goa. Our government will be transparent and will deliver whatever is promised." Pilot said.

"The Congress stands with the people of Goa on all issues and for the future of the state," he said, adding that youngsters are looking out for opportunities and growth, besides a sustainable ecosystem where they could lead a better life.

He said that the Congress will achieve a thumping majority in Uttarakhand and Punjab too, which will go to polls shortly. "Even in Goa, the party will get a majority as its campaign is getting a tremendous response for fielding new faces," he said.

"BJP promised to double the income of farmers and reduce fuel prices, but failed to handle the economy. It failed miserably to deliver during the Covid crisis," he said.

Hitting out at the BJP government in Goa for failing to resume mining, he said that many people across the coastal state lost their jobs due to the suspension of mining activities. Pilot said that BJP also intends to implement three linear projects to help its 'crony capitalist friends'.

MP Pragya Thakur latest victim of blackmailing racket

Controversial BJP MP from Bhopal Pragya Thakur has become the latest victim of a nude call-blackmailing racket. In her complaint, the first-time MP has alleged that on February 6 she received a video call on her WhatsApp. A woman who made the call took off her clothes, after which the MP disconnected the call. Later, she received a call from another number in which the person at the other end demanded money and threatened to make the video of the MP's interaction with the woman go viral if she failed to pay the amount. Based on the MP's complaint, Bhopal police has registered a case against unidentified persons. Police said their initial probe suggested that it could be the work of an inter-state gang of cyber criminals operating from Jharkhand.

Music academy in memory of legend

Bharat Ratna Lata Mangeshkar's birthplace Indore will have a music academy and music college in memory of the illustrious singer. A day after the legendary singer breathed last in Mumbai, Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan made a slew of announcements in memory of the legendary singer. "A music academy and a music college will be started in Indore in Lata Didi's memory to enable promising singers to shape their talents," he announced. "A music museum preserving all songs sung by Lata Didi too will be built," he added. A statue of the doyen would be installed in her birthplace.

Red-ink letter triggers fear of dacoits

Three months after the last surviving inter-state dacoit in Madhya Pradesh, Gauri Yadav, was gunned down by police in UP's Chitrakoot district, a threatening letter dangling outside the gram panchayat building of Khohi village in Satna district has triggered fears of dacoits still operating in the forests along MP-UP border. The letter written in red ink demanded `5 lakh each from the gram panchayat office-bearers and the contractor of the Jal Jeevan Mission project in the area. While Satna SP Dharamveer Yadav has assured that the police would soon trace the culprits, villagers are living in constant fear as Khohi village is part of once dacoit-infested area.

Ukraine showdown: Fears rise as Russia launches Belarus drills

Development adds urgency to diplomatic efforts by NATO leaders; Russia says exercises will centre around “suppressing and repelling external aggression”

MOSCOW

RUSSIA and Belarus launched joint military drills on Thursday that heightened tensions and added urgency to diplomatic efforts by NATO leaders to avert a feared invasion of Ukraine.

NATO said Russia's deployment of troops and missiles represented a “dangerous moment” for European security, with fears building for weeks that Moscow was positioning more than 1,00,000 troops around Ukraine in preparation for an all-out assault.

Western leaders have been shuttling to Moscow over the past several days in an effort to deflate tensions, giving Russia a chance to air its grievances about NATO's expansion into eastern Europe and former Soviet states.

British Foreign Secretary Liz Truss took a tough message to Moscow on Thursday, accusing Russia of adopting a “threatening posture” and urging Moscow to withdraw its forces to prove it had no intention to invade Ukraine. Kyiv denounced the war games — set to run until February 20 — as “psychological pressure” while French Foreign Minister Jean-Yves Le Drian called the exercises “a very violent gesture”.

Columns of heavy Russian missile systems rolled across snow-carpeted fields on the eve of the start of the drills in footage released by the defence ministry. Russia has also sent six warship through the Bosphorus for naval drills on the Black Sea and the neighbouring Sea of Azov. Kyiv denounced their presence as an “unprecedented” attempt to cut off Ukraine from both seas.

Moscow and Minsk have not disclosed how many troops are participating, but the United States has said some 30,000 soldiers were being dispatched to Belarus from locations including Russia's Far East.

Russia's defence ministry said the exercises would centre around “suppressing and repelling external aggression.” Answering Western concerns, the Kremlin has insisted that the troops will go home after the exercises.

However, Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelensky said “the accumulation of forces at the border is psychological pressure from our neighbours”.

Kyiv has launched its own military drills expected to mirror Russia's games, but officials have said little about them out of apparent fear of escalating tensions.

The crisis has spurred weeks of talks between Russian, Western and Ukrainian officials. On the agenda at the talks are Russian security demands to the United States and the Washington-led NATO military alliance that aim to reduce their role in eastern Europe and former Soviet states.

Truss was the latest Western diplomat to travel to Moscow, where she said she received promises from Lavrov that Russia had no plans to invade Ukraine. “We need to see those words followed up by actions,” she told reporters after the talks.

“We need to see the troops and the equipment stationed on the Ukrainian border moved elsewhere because at present it is in a very threatening posture,” Truss added.

Lavrov meanwhile said he was “disappointed” by the talks and said Western diplomats have either not understood or have ignored Russia's concerns.

He said the drills in Belarus as well as the movement of troops across Russia's own territory had spurred “incomprehensible alarm and quite strong emptions from our British counterparts and other Western representatives”.

Moscow's chilly relations with London nearly ruptured after the 2018 poisoning of former Russian double agent Sergei Skripal and his daughter in England, which the UK blamed on the Kremlin. Truss's trip came just days after Macron conducted a round of shuttle diplomacy between Moscow and Kyiv, and then briefed German Chancellor Olaf Scholz about his progress in Berlin.

The German chancellor will travel to both Kyiv and Moscow next week for separate meetings with the Ukrainian and Russian leaders, including his first in-person meeting with Vladimir Putin. AFP

UK SAYS RUSSIA MUST PULL BACK TROOPS FROM BORDER

Moscow: Britain said on Thursday that Russia needs to withdraw troops from its border with Ukraine to ease tensions between Moscow and the West over fears Moscow is planning to invade. “We need to see the troops and the equipment stationed on the Ukrainian border moved elsewhere because at present it is in a very threatening posture,” British Foreign Secretary Liz Truss said in Moscow. Truss met with Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov in the latest in weeks of intensive negotiations between officials from Moscow and the West over European security and Ukraine tensions. “Lavrov said to me that Russia has no plans to invade Ukraine but we need to see those words followed up by actions,” Truss said.

‘DANGEROUS MOMENT’: NATO CHIEF ON RUSSIAN BUILDUP

Brussels: Russia's deployment for a military exercise in Belarus and on the borders of Ukraine marks a “dangerous moment” for European security, NATO's chief said on Thursday. “We are closely monitoring Russia's deployment in Belarus, which is the biggest since the end of the Cold War,” NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg said at a news conference with British PM Boris Johnson. “This is a dangerous moment for European security. The number of Russian forces is going up. The warning time for a possible attack is going down.” Stoltenberg and Johnson both warned Russia that NATO is deploying more forces to its eastern member states and that Russia's behaviour would not deter them.

> The accumulation of forces is psychological pressure from our neighbours. These risks have been there since 2014. The issue is the degree of these risks, and how we respond to them

RBI moves 'cautiously' on digital ₹

Says will do rigorous pilots to ensure cyber security and prevention of counterfeiting

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) will conduct rigorous pilots or "proofs of concept" to ensure the sanctity of cyber security and prevention of counterfeiting before issuing the digital rupee in the next fiscal year.

Declining to give an exact timeline on the launch, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das on Thursday said that the central bank had to proceed very "cautiously" and couldn't "hasten" on the issuance of the Central Bank Digital Currency, or digital rupee.

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman had said during this year's Union Budget presentation that the central bank would issue the digital rupee in FY23 after an amendment in the RBI Act.

Terming cryptocurrencies a "big threat" to financial and macroeconomic stability, Das said investors in cryptos should be cognisant of the risks they faced as these currencies by whatever name they went weren't backed by an underlier, "not even a tulip."

The flower analogy was used to draw attention to the first recorded speculative bubble which went bust in 1637 in the Dutch republic.

> We are carefully and cautiously examining and progressing ahead as there are multiple risks. The biggest risks are related to cyber security and possibility of counterfeiting
>
> Shaktikanta Das, RBI Governor

The digital rupee that RBI is working on is like its paper currency counterpart and both are interchangeable, being issued by the central bank, which will bear liability for it as in the case of currency notes or bank notes.

A person could use the digital rupee as he uses the paper rupee issued by the central bank for making payments etc.

The only difference will be instead of using a wallet to carry notes, a mobile phone or similar technology would be used to transact with digital rupee.

"Global central banks are proceeding with CBDCs' issuance with utmost care and caution and we will also do the same," the RBI Governer said.

RISK: MONITORING TRANSACTIONS, SAY CRYPTO EXCHANGES

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

THE Reserve Bank of India has once again on Thursday flagged concerns on risks posed by cryptocurrencies in India. RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das has said that such assets have no underlying value and private cryptocurrencies are a threat to our macroeconomic stability and financial stability.

His comment comes a week after the Budget proposed a 30% tax on virtual digital assets, thereby recognising cryptos. His concerns also come at a time when cryptocurrencies are gaining huge popularity. Also, many crypto platforms have been raising pre-seed funding from venture capitalists.

Reacting to the RBI Governor's views, Sathvik Vishwanath Co-Founder and CEO Unocoin, says: "We, as part of the crypto industry, do understand that it has the potential to disrupt economies to some extent if it is not handled properly. On the other side, the exchanges which are the anchor points for people to buy and sell cryptos help monitor the transactions and traceability procedures."

Instead of just blindly investing in cryptos, Vikram Subburaj, CEO, Giottus Crypto Exchange, says there are definitely risks to the downside in the short-term and hence investors are advised to keep their crypto investments to about 2-3% of their overall wealth portfolio.

The crypto platform, Giottus, has launched two investment options to help investors expand their crypto portfolio with investment options starting from ₹100.

Meanwhile, the global crypto market is optimistic as the Russian government plans to recognise crypto as a form of currency.

"...the unexpected move can be viewed as a positive for the industry, demonstrating that regulators and policy makers are also starting to realise the potential crypto has," says CoinDCX.

'India fastest growing economy, and it will be in following years'

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

INDIA is the fastest growing economy globally in the current year, and it will be in the following years, said finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday.

The minister while addressing the Lok Sabha said "if we compare our economy with other developed nations, our's is on sustained recoveries." She highlighted that the GDP of the USA was -3.4 % in 2020-21, in 2021-22 it was 5.6%. "Our's was -6.6% in 2020-21, and in 2021-22, we are concluding with 9% GDP growth. It means they are recovering slower than us. Similarly, the GDP of the entire Euro area was -6.4%, in 2021-22 it is 5.2 % and 3.9% projected in 2023-24."

The minister also took a potshot on Congress, calling their rule was Andha Kal (dark age) in the country. On the inflation, the minister said despite the significant supply side disruptions, India's Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation was 6.2% in 2021, as compared to 9.1% in 2008-9 during the global financial crisis.

She said the pandemic has been an absolutely rare event in the last couple of 100 years. In the past, India witnessed four times contraction in its GDP, triggered through the international event. None of the previous crises took the GDP growth in minus. But the pandemic in 2020-21 led to contraction of 6.6% negative growth in GDP. "It was one of the worst we could face and we were not alone but all over the world, " the minister noted.

"We witnessed ₹9.57 lakh crore reduction in GDP due to Covid-19 in 2020-21," said the minister.

M&M profit up 155% to ₹1,353 cr on robust sales

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

HOME-GROWN auto major Mahindra & Mahindra (M&M) on Thursday reported 155% increase in its standalone profit at ₹1,353 crore for the quarter ended Dec 31, 2021 on the back of strong sales across portfolio. M&M had posted a standalone PAT of ₹531 crore in the same quarter last fiscal as it had incurred impairment provision of ₹1,210 crore (exceptional item) for its bankrupt S Korean subsidiary Ssangyong Motor.

Mahindra's revenue for the third quarter (Q3FY22) rose by 8% to ₹15,239 crore, as against ₹14,057 crore in the year-ago period. The SUV and tractor major sold 1,18,174 vehicles during the quarter, down 2% Y-o-Y as semiconductor shortage impacted production.

Anish Shah, MD & CEO, M&M, said, "Our auto business has done well despite supply side challenges while our farm business has shown market share increase despite a slowdown in the market." The company said it had to incur a production loss of around 20,000 units in Q3 owing to chip shortage.

Mahindra's quarterly result showed that it had 155,000 plus open bookings for its model range out of which 70,000 plus are for XUV700. The company's farm equipment sector (FES) gained 140 basis points market share during the quarter. Rajesh Jejurikar, Executive Director, M&M, said, "The order book for XUV 700 and Thar reflects the customer and market success of these new launches. With better availability of semiconductors, we hope to build the volume growth momentum in Q4F22 in our journey to being No 1 in core SUVs."

The company estimates that it would still take another 6-9 months before normalcy returned, as far as the semiconductor issue is concerned. Jejurikar also said that the company was looking at price hike but is yet to calibrate the figure.

RIL concludes 40% stake buy in SWREL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

RELIANCE Industries Ltd (RIL) on Thursday said it has completed the acquisition of a 40% stake in Shapoorji Pallonji Group's Sterling & Wilson Renewable Energy Ltd (SWREL) for ₹2,845 crore.

The company had announced two acquisitions in October~a $771 million buyout of Norway-based solar panel manufacturer REC Solar Holdings and the purchase of a 40% stake in solar engineering, procurement, construction (EPC) firm SWREL, formerly known as Sterling and Wilson Solar Limited, in a multi-stage transaction for about ₹2,845 crore. The purpose of the acquisitions for RIL was to create a multi-billion-dollar clean energy portfolio.

"Reliance New Energy Ltd (RNEL) on Wednesday bought 1.96 crore shares or 10.37% stake of SWREL at a price of ₹275 apiece aggregating to ₹737.54 crore from Shapoorji Pallonji and Company Pvt Ltd and Khurshed Daruvala. Consequent to such acquisition, RNEL holds 40% of the total paid-up equity share capital of SWREL," said the company.

Zomato's Q3 loss narrows to ₹63.2 cr; revenue jumps 82% to hit 1,112 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

FOOD delivery platform Zomato on Thursday reported a loss of ₹63.2 crore for the third quarter ended December 31, 2021. The internet company had posted a loss of ₹352.6 crore in the corresponding quarter last fiscal.

Zomato had posted a net loss of ₹429 crore in the September-ended quarter.

The company's revenue from operations was at ₹1,112 crore in Q3FY22, up 82.47% against ₹609.4 crore in the year-ago quarter. The same grew by 9% quarter-on-quarter (Q-o-Q).

Zomato said that its customer delivery charges declined by 22%. "This was driven by ₹7.5 per order reduction in customer delivery charges in Q3FY22 as compared to Q2FY22," the company said.

Zomato's adjusted revenue grew by 78% to ₹1,420 crore. Adjusted revenue is the sum of revenue from operations (from all businesses) and customer delivery charges in food delivery business. On a sequential basis, it was flat.

Zomato's gross order value (GOV) grew by 84.5% YoY and 1.7% QoQ to ₹5,500 crore in Q3 FY22.

"We believe that the weak QoQ growth in GOV was primarily due to reduction in customer delivery charges, in addition to a soft impact of post-Covid reopening (including some shift from delivery to dining out)," Zomato said.

Gross Order Value is defined as the total monetary value of all food delivery orders placed online on Zomato in India including taxes, customer delivery charges.

Apex court asks Maran, KAL Airways to consider SpiceJet's ₹600-crore offer

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

PRIVATE carrier SpiceJet on Thursday said that it has offered to pay ₹600 crore in cash in the share transfer case with its former promoter Kalanithi Maran and his firm KAL Airways for a full and final settlement of all disputes. The offer was made during the hearing in the Supreme Court on Thursday.

The top court has asked the former promoter of the airlines (Maran) to consider the settlement offer and has listed the matter on February 14, 2022.

Mukul Rohatgi, senior counsel appearing for SpiceJet, told the court that out of the principal amount of ₹578 crore awarded in arbitration, SpiceJet has already paid ₹308 crore in cash and deposited a bank guarantee of ₹270 crore. He proposed to pay the bank guarantee equivalent amount of ₹270 crore in cash and top it up with additional ₹22 crore aggregating the total payout to ₹600 crore as full and final settlement of all disputes between the parties.

The controversy between current and former promoter of the struggling airline dates back to 2015 when Maran and KAL Airways had transferred their 58.46% stake in SpiceJet to Ajay Singh for a token amount of ₹2. Under the agreement, KAL Airways and Maran were to receive redeemable warrants and preference share in return for the ₹679 crore which they spent on SpiceJet.

ShareChat buys MX TakaTak for $700 m

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

SHARECHAT, the parent company of short video app Moj on Thursday announced a merger between Moj and MX TakaTak.

According to sources familiar with the development, the deal is valued at around $700 million.

The combined platform will have 100 million creators, over 300 million monthly active users (MAU), and nearly 250 billion monthly video views. Post this transaction, MX Media and its shareholders will become strategic shareholders of ShareChat.

Though MX TakaTak will continue to function as a separate platform for now, in the coming months, the experience of users and creators will converge enabling creators from both platforms to reach the most extensive set of audiences in India, ShareChat said.

Short-video apps are becoming popular in India since TikTok and other Chinese apps were banned in 2020.

Moj has the highest monthly active user base of 160 million. Launched in July 2020, Moj is home to more than 50 million creators that connect with India through content created in 16 different languages.

Consumer goods sales see 10% drop in January

SAMIKSHA GOEL @New Delhi

THE fast moving consumer goods (FMCG) industry has seen a decline of 10% in sales growth in January over the preceding month of December last year, according to data by retail intelligence firm Bizom.

The dip is mainly driven by lower number of active kirana stores through the month, says the company that captures transactions from over 75 lakh stores across India.

The active kirana outlet growth witnessed a 5.3% fall during the month, while the monthly sales per active kirana dropped 5% month-on-month (MoM).

Lower stocking is also on account of kiranas focussing on key stock keeping units (SKUs) and product availability remaining consistent right through this third wave.

From a regional point of view, the data by Bizom suggests that West Bengal has seen the highest MoM growth in sales at 31.2%. Maharashtra has shown flat sales at 0.4%, while the southern states of Andhra Pradesh (-10.5%), Telangana (-6.0%) and Karnataka (-10.8%) have all shown a decline. Uttar Pradesh has also shown a marginal dip of 1.7% in January over December.

'AI-SaaS start-up market to hit $500 bn by 2030'

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

INDIA'S thriving start-up ecosystem could help the country generate a market value of $500 billion from both artificial intelligence applications and services by 2030.

A new report by Stellaris Venture Partners, an early-stage venture capital firm, and International Finance Corporation (IFC), also says that AI opportunity could create over 9 lakh white collar jobs and 3.6 million new indirect jobs.

Last year alone, $4.5 billion was invested in SaaS start-ups in India, an increase of 170% from 2020. The report says that AI will not just be a "feature" in existing applications, but will help produce a new class of applications, creating the next disruption in the enterprise software market.

Globally, AI represents a $900 billion revenue opportunity by 2030 from infrastructure, applications and services.

Alok Goyal, Partner, Stellaris Venture Partners, said, "In the last decade, India has become a significant player in the global SaaS ecosystem, with breakout companies across different software domains. As AI transforms enterprise processes across industries and functions, we expect massive value creation through a new wave of AI-first start-ups."

Another report by Nasscom says that deeptech start-ups have raised $190 m across 27 deals in the 4th quarter of CY21. Also, Indian start-ups raised over $7 bn in Q4 CY21, up 18% from Q3 CY21.

Fintech and retailtech were the top sectors in Q4 of 2021, as both attracted nearly 46% of funding. Neo banks, payment companies and crypto start-ups continue to gain traction from entrepreneurs and VCs.

Djokovic on entry list for vaccinated-only event

Top-ranked Novak Djokovic is on the entry list for the BNP Paribas Open in California, where the Serb would face a vaccine mandate. Djokovic, who was unvaccinated for Covid-19 as of last month, was detained and eventually deported from Australia before the grand slam for failing to meet the country's strict vaccination requirements.

Hoping to hit sweep spot

With the series in the bag, India might want to try out a few combinations in final ODI against West Indies

GOMESH S @ Chennai

BETWEEN September 2005 and May 2006, India went on a streak of 17 consecutive victories while chasing in ODIs under the captaincy of Rahul Dravid. It was a period when they often chose to field first — 12 of the 17 wins — irrespective of the conditions to get better as a team at chasing. Which is why, when Rishabh Pant walked out to open the batting with Rohit Sharma on Wednesday, the decision had Rahul Dravid written all over it.

However, shortly after the match, Rohit all but confirmed that Shikhar Dhawan will be taking the southpaw's place at the top in the final ODI. "I have been asked to do different things, so this was different. People will be happy seeing Rishabh open then, but yeah it is not permanent," he said in the post match presentation, adding, "We will get Shikhar back next game, and he needs some game time. It is not always the results. We wanted to try it one game."

If Dhawan does return to his spot on Friday, India will have all of their established top three — Dhawan, Rohit and Virat Kohli — in the playing eleven after almost a year. The dearth of centuries among them in the last 18 months has been discussed a lot, and India would want them back at their best, scoring big, going forward.

Meanwhile, the team management will also have a decision to make as either of Suryakumar Yadav or Deepak Hooda will have to make way for Pant in the middle-order on Dhawan's return. Either way, it was clear that India want KL Rahul to continue to bat in the middle at No 4 or 5, depending on match situations.

In the bowling department, Rohit had spoken about bringing Kuldeep Yadav slowly back into the scheme of things. With the series in the bag, India might field the wrist spinner in place of Chahal to maintain the balance of the batting-order.

However, there might be very little change in the pace attack, possibly Deepak Chahar in place of Shardul Thakur, as Mohammed Siraj and Prasidh Krishna, the player of the match in second ODI, have been impressive and had very little game-time so far.

"We don't mind losing a few games trying out a few things. Because it is important to look at the long term goals. We will see what works out well for the team combination," Rohit had said on Wednesday. Going by the captain's words and from what we have seen so far in the series, there could be a lot more experimentation in the coming months until they figure their best possible team combinations.

India seek positive start amidst uncertainty

GOMESH S @ Chennai

THROUGH the course of 2021, India skipper Mithali Raj insisted on their top-order performing consistently, especially in the ODIs, for them to put up scores over 250 consistently. "If we have to visit the 2017 World Cup where the team did well and put on a score of 250-270 is because there's at least one top-order bat who played through the innings and the rest of them revolved around that batter," Mithali had said in their pre-departure press conference last month.

In the last 12 months, both Smriti Mandhana and Shafali Verma haven't been able to convert the starts they have got. Verma has one fifty in six innings while Mandhana has two in eleven. Which is why, the five matches against New Zealand is crucial for India to get the openers back at their best before the World Cup begins.

However, with doubts over Mandhana's availability, who's in MIQ per New Zealand government rules, Mithali and Co. will have to make do with the available players. Given the team management's priority to have a left-right combination at the top, Bhatia could open with Verma, who hasn't been consistent herself, if Mandhana is not available as she did in the T20I.

In hindsight, it might not be a bad thing to happen as Mithali, who will be taking the place of Sabbineni Meghana, could be batting at three followed by Harmanpreet Kaur at four. Through 2021, the argument for India skipper to move up to No 3 couldn't materialise, largely due to unavailability of the injured Kaur. Mithali batting at three would mean that India will have Deepti Sharma, Richa Ghosh and Pooja Vastrakar batting one position higher than they did last year, creating a space for an extra all-rounder in Sneh Rana.

In the bowling department, Poonam Yadav's deteriorating form is a concern. Jhulan Goswami is likely to take her place, but whether Meghna Singh or Renuka Singh Thakur will accompany her in Simrah Dil Bahadur's spot will depend on their availability. Either way, it is almost certain that India will play three seamers instead of two as they did in the lone T20I.

BFC set for big Hyderabad test in ISL

ENS/AGENCIES @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU FC are in an impressive nine-game unbeaten run in the ISL, and will be eager to carry that momentum forward as they face Hyderabad FC in Bambolim on Friday. It is going to be a massive test against the table toppers, but a win would help them get tied on points with Hyderabad at the top.

But, BFC coach Marco Pezzaiuoli is aware of the task that lie ahead of the Blues. "Hyderabad are a very good team in transition. They have fast players in offensive areas, and also have the League's top-scorer in Ogbeche as the man in the box. We will have to be very sharp. However, they also have weaknesses that we need to capitalise on, without making any mistakes of our own," said Pezzaiuoli.

Hyderabad will be without suspended right-back Ashish Rai, while the Blues will continue to miss the services of Ashique Kuruniyan. Midfielder Rohit Kumar too looks unlikely to feature after picking up an injury in the win over Jamshedpur.

Jiri Vesely in action at the Bengaluru Open on Thursday | VINOD KUMAR T

Vesely confident Czech men's stocks will rise soon on court

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

A GLANCE at the ATP rankings will reveal that Czech Republic does not comprise a single player in the top 100. For a country which won the Davis Cup back-to-back in 2012 and 2013, that does not augur too well. Jiri Vesely, currently ranked at 123, is one of their best singles players from the country, six places below Tomas Machac.

In fact, the region has not been able to produce elite players like Radek Stepanek and Tomas Berdych after their retirement in 2017 and 2019 respectively. "There have always been periods in every country where you had top players — (Andre) Agassi and (Pete) Sampras — and last few years Americans didn't have top players in the top 30. Now they have (Taylor) Fritz, (Reilly) Opleka and these young guys coming up. Now, we also have talented players so I think we will find more Czechs in top 100, 50, 30…" said Vesely, who ended India's singles challenge at the Bengaluru Open, beating Prajnesh Gunneswaran 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Interestingly, it is different for Czech Republic when it comes to women's tennis. In the last ten editions of the Fed Cup, they emerged champions six times, showcasing their dominance. They have eight players in the top 100 with Barbora Krejcikova and Karolina Pliskova ranked third and fourth, respectively, in the WTA rankings. Petra Kvitova, ranked 23, has two Grand Slams.

There are of course multiple factors behind Czech women's admirable show but one of the main reasons is the role of the parents, who have pushed them. Also, with the country having a rich history of players including Jana Navotna, Helena Sukova, Czech Republic-born Martina Navratilova among others, it piqued their interest too.

"Personally, I think there are so many women players in the country and there is always the parents behind it, and it is easier to push the girls than in the men's circuit. In these things, the parents or the father has an impact. I am very happy that the Czech women are doing so good globally," said Vesely.

Indian pairs toil

After Prajnesh's exit, three doubles pair from India followed suit. Top seeds Jeevan Nedunchezhiyan and Purav Raja were knocked out by Jay Clark and Marc Polmans. The pairing of N Sriram Balaji/Vishnu Vardhan and Yuki Bhambri/Divij Sharan also lost. Only Saketh Myneni and Ramkumar Ramanathan advanced to the semifinals after a walkover from Steven Diez/Malek Jaziri.
